ARMY FEEDING

1. There are two separate types of Army Feeding.

   (a) Constructive and recuperative feeding.

   (b) Subsistance feeding.

2. (Constructive and recuperative feeding).

   This type of feeding is necessary to build up health, fitness, stamina and vigor to withstand the strain of War and the risk of disease. Constructive and Recuperative feeding must be made available in training, on active service up to the rear limits of the actual fire area.

3. (Subsistance feeding).

   This aims at satisfying the hunger and maintaining strength under conditions where methods of cooking are most primitive or non-existant, and where the range and quantity of food stuffs may be greatly restricted. This type of feeding occurs only under fire and its aim is to prevent starvation and bodily weakness. Subsistance feeding should last only a few days.

4. (Objects of Army Feeding).

   Only object is to build an Army of effective troops, and having achieved this, to maintain them as fit troops. Cooking and messing for the production of fit and vigorous troops must be based on:-

   (a) The provision of the proper ration.
   (b) Proper preparation and cooking.
   (c) Adequate messing facilities, to provide reasonable freedom of choice.
   (d) Skilful catering to vary the menu within the limits of the officers and ranks concerned with the messing and cooking.

5. Objects of Cooking

   To make the food more beneficial to man. Cooking does this by:-

   (a) Increasing the palatability.

   (b) Making the food more digestive by bursting through the casing or cells as in meats and pulses, breaking the food down into more suitable forms, as in starches or extracting juices as in making soups from bones.

   (c) All cooking destroys, to some extent, certain vital properties such as Vitamins A and C, and allows others like the mineral salts to escape.

   (d) Bad cooking does so to a dangerous degree, and destroys the bulk of the food too.

6. There are two broad types of cooking:-

   (a) That in which the properties and juices are intentionally left in the food, as in Roasting and Baking meats, and steaming vegetables.

   (b) That in which the properties are intentionally extracted as in stews and soups.

   The first method is by far the better, it conserves the vital properties, is more easily digested and enjoyed better.
   The second method is for use where the conditions of service prevent any other, for using up materials that would otherwise be wasted.

WHAT IS FOOD

Food is any substance which when absorbed into the body, via the alimentary tract, produces heat and energy. The necessary food factors are; Proteins, Carbohydrates, and fats, and a menu should be so compiled to give the necessary balanced diet. These factors added together give the required number of calories that are required by the soldier, according to requirements for instance:- 1 Gram of Protein will give 4.1 calories, 1 Gram of fat will give 9.3 calories, and the average requirements of a soldier is 4500 - 5000 calories per day. What is a calorie? A calorie is a unit of heat required to raise the temperature of 1 litre of water 1 degree centigrade. Then we have the accessary food factors, which are known as Vitamins. They are necessary for normal health, for growth and reproduction; of the many Vitamins the following are most important.

(A) Vitamin A controls the general nutrition of the body, particularly the eyes; it is also known as the anti infective vitamin, and a deficiency breaks down resistance to disease, particularly night blindness. Its greatest source is obtained from carrots, green vegetables, liver and kidneys; cereals and other proprietry lines are fortified with Vitamin A.

(B) Vitamin B is known as the anti neurotic. A lack of vitamin B upsets the nervous system, brings about muscular weakness exhaustion and Beri Beri.
The main source of vitamin B is found in wheat germ, toratoes, fresh beef, marmite and vegemite, and unpolished rice.

(C) Vitamin C is also known as the anti scorbutic vitamin, and is found in fresh fruit and vegetables. A deficiency in the diet leads to scurvy, that dreaded disease which in past campaigns caused more casualties that actual enemy action. This vitamin has now been prepared artificially, and can be obtained under the name of ascorbic acid. It can also be produced from Blue Boiler Peas, wheat, haricot beans, and soyer beans when germinated.
To obtain the full benefit of the vitamin content of Blue Boiler Peas and wheat, it is advisable to eat them uncooked after germination, let the troops carry them in their pockets and eat them as required. This method has been adopted in some units and has proved most satisfactory.

FEEDING OF TROOPS IN FORWARD AREAS IN NEW GUINEA

The feeding of troops in forward areas is a job where all concerned must give that extra effort to feed the man in the front line. Army cooks today are of a much higher standard than of, we will say, three years ago, and he requires more than average intelligence, for when called upon, he must be able to improvise his cooking apparatus, use his initiative in providing a variety of dishes from a limited number of supplies, and also be inventive to a degree where he can give his best under any conditions.
Improvisation and variety is the spice of good feeding in forward areas.

The SWP ration is well balanced and adequate and no difficulties should arise, providing the caterer or person responsible does not delete such commodities as Blue Boiler Peas, unpolished rice, egg powder, curry and other such commodities, as these have a high vitamin and calorific value, but unfortunately, the troops have been deprived of these necessary foods, because the cook has had nothing to cook them with, or he will make the excuse that the men will not eat them, and no wonder. The cook does not seem to realize that it is through him that the food is not consumed, because he has not prepared these particular foodstuffs correctly, or perhaps he prefers to use a tin opener in preference to doing a little extra work.
Whilst we are on the subject of tin openers, in the early part of the campaign, tinned vegetables were the only source of supply supply /

and, although these commodities provided bulk, they contained little or no vitamins, such products as carrots, beans, peas, cabbage, potatoes were treated as luxuries, [illegible] again they were abused by the cooks in the preparation in this way. During the process of canning, the contents were cooked and heat destroys certain vitamins. When issued to the cook he would open a number of tins, place the contents in a container and again cook them when all that was necessary was to reheat the contents. Hence the mush that became so unpopular. All cooks should be trained to handle and prepare canned foods in order to ensure palatable meals.

DEHYDRATED FOODSTUFFS

Dehydrated vegetables when prepared and cooked properly are the best approach to fresh foods, and cooks should have a thorough knowledge of preparation before attempting to use them. Tables are drawn up giving times for soaking and cooking and if the instructions are strictly adhered to, then a good dish is produced.

DEHYDRATED MUTTON

This particular commodity is not very popular owing to the misuse it was put to when first introduced, some cooks did not even know what it was, and when informed that it was meat, took it for granted that it could be cooked immediately and on the same lines as minced beef; No instructions were issued as to the proportions per 100 men, needless to say the cook would commence to cook in one Sever and finish [illegible] about three, not knowing that the meat had to be renatured and to do so it had to be soaked in water for about 2½ hours, and in that time it would absorb the amount of water in which it had been soaked. Even now the troops are still prejudiced against it, but that does not alter the fact that it is good and nourishing food. The main secret in using dehydrated mutton is to braize it after soaking, and then use it according to the dish in which it is to be made up, the following is a variety of dishes in which it can be used:- Potato Pie, Meat Pie, [illegible], Pasties, Rissoles, Curried Mince, Sausage Rolls and numerous others. This commodity should never be deleted from the ration indent, where there are facilities to handle it, as it means that the men are being deprived of the meat ration for that day.

WHEATMEAL AND BISCUITS

Wheatmeal is one of the best assets on the ration scales and unfortunately this commodity has not received the attention it is worthy of. It is of good nutritive value and has a high content of Vitamin B; it can be used as porridge or it may be used to supplement the issue of flour by adding 50% to all pastries, scones etc., and it is very much appreciated. Biscuit may be used for porridge, covers for pies or ground up and used as bread crumbs for puddings etc, such as apple or Fruit Charlottes.

BREAD AND BUNS

When no supplies of bread are available there is no reason why the troops should be deprived of this much desired food. Flour and dribarm can be obtained and bread rolls or buns can be produced in forward areas. For example, Pln, Company or Bn. kitchens or bakeries can be erected and improvised ovens built and a cook detailed to bake sufficient bread or buns to supply the forward troops. This has been done and not one day did the men go without a bread roll or a yeast bun. Cooks are now instructed on how to make bread and improvise ovens.

FIELD OPERATIONAL RATION

This ration is outstanding, is scientifically balanced, has variety, palatability, the necessary vitamin contents, calorific value and bulk. In addition it can be stored under adverse conditions for a long period. It is more than sufficient for one day and two packs packs/

would last a man three days. When issued to individuals, the whole of the contents may be eaten uncooked, except the tea tablets, and, issued on the community basis, good meals can be provided for groups of three upwards.

COOKING APPARATUS

(1) The Fowler stove is outstanding as a field oven and is used extensively.

(2) Barrel ovens are being used with success and are very popular amongst cooks. These are made from 44 gallon drums and have a greater oven space than the Fowler Stove and, when erected correctly, can be controlled with a very even oven heat. In addition, smaller types can be made from 4 gallon food containers or 4" mortar boxes, biscuit tins etc.

(3) The Hydra Burner. If you are fortunate enough to get one forward, the Hydra Burner is very handy. The burner is used in some areas where it is difficult to obtain fuel or good burning wood. It is quite good for using for a trench fire - don't use on a Fowler Stove, as the flame is too severe.

Crown ~~b~~ing cookers are issued to troops and these give sufficient heat to last approx 35 minutes - quite good for individuals to make a small can or mess tin of tea.

In conclusion, it must be insisted upon, that no waste of foodstuffs is to be permitted, more so in forward areas, as supplies are never certain and a surplus is always a reliable source for a meal, even if it is Bully and Biscuits and a cup of hot, sweetened tea is always appreciated by all.

TABLE FOR REHYDRATING DEHYDRATED FOODS AND TIME ALLOWED FOR COOKING

| COMMODITY | | QUANTITIES PER 100 MEN | TIME OF SOAKING | QUANTITY OF WATER FOR SOAKING | TIME OF INCREASE IN COOKING WEIGHT | | REMARKS | TIME TO COOK |
| | | lbs | | | | | | |
| DEHYDRATED MUTTON | | 9 | 2 hours | 1½ gall | 15 mins | 125% | Prepare and cook in normal manner | 2 hours |
| " | POTATOES | 8 | 4 - 6 hrs | 2½ gall | 10 mins | 300% | After soaking cook as for fresh potatoes | 30 mins |
| " | CABBAGE | 4 | ½ hour | 2 gall | 4 mins | 400% | After soaking plunge into boiling salted water | 20 mins |
| " | CARROTS | 5 | 4 - 6 hrs | 2 gall | 8 mins | 350% | After soaking use as for fresh carrots | 1½ hours |
| " | ONIONS | 3½ | ½ hour | 2 gall | Same as fresh onions | 500% | After soaking fry or cook in the normal manner | 10 mins |

NOTES ON THE PREPARATION OF DEHYDRATED MEATS

Owing to dehydration, this meat needs more building up than fresh meat. It is advised, where and when obtainable, to finely chop up onions and fry off in a large dish, then add Mutton and fry altogether using this method as a base for all dishes in which Dehydrated Mutton is to be used. When onions are not available, braize of mutton in the usual manner.

AMENITIES

1. Supply of Amenities in NEW GUINEA is largely dependent on unit location. In and around MORESBY area units are well catered for, the principal exception being wireless sets, which are in short supply and almost impossible to obtain.

2. In more forward areas, amenities generally were most difficult to obtain and supplies coming forward were negligible.

3. Units are therefore thrown upon their own resources to a large extent, and unit funds are the principle avenue, through which unit canteens may be kept to the limit of available canteen goods.

4. The organisation of unit concert parties is one of the principle means of entertainment; and the time and work involved in preparing and producing a concert is amply justified.

5. Items such as soap, notepaper and envelopes, tooth paste, toothbrushes and nuggett were frequently in short supply, and the maintenance of tobacco and cigarette stores was always a problem.

6. Philanthropic representatives maintained huts or shelters at all main staging posts along the L's of C, where troops in transit could be supplied with hot drinks, reading material etc. It was found that the most satisfactory method of distribution of the small quantity of comforts received, was by allocating them to representatives in charge of those staging posts. Items such as sox, face washers etc, could thus be given where they were most needed - [illegible] wounded and sick moving back along the [illegible]

REGIMENTAL LISTS OF OFFICERS

1. The following notes are issued for guidance and to amplify instructions relative to maintaining Unit Regimental Lists.

2. Regimental List of Officers

AMR & O 103(4) requires that units shall maintain a Regimental List of Officers. These lists will be maintained in order of substantive rank, and the following pro forma is practicable.

| 100 AUST INF BN REGIMENTAL LISTS | | Lt-Col | Maj | Capt | Lt | Total |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | W.E. | 1 | 5 | 10 | 20 | 34 |

| 20.1.43 | | | BRIDDLE BB | Sec 9 Aust Trg Bn CAG 50/44 | 1.7.43 |

NOTE (a) - Not necessarily date of substantive rank as in some instances an officer's date of substantive rank is not his date of regimental seniority i.e.
(a) An officer taken on strength from reinforcements.
(b) An officer transferred to a Unit and his seniority on transfer prescribed.

3. It should be noted that the list of Officers included in AF W3008 is not a Regimental List, as regularly seconded Officers, Officers transferred RSL etc will not be included.

4. The only authority for inclusion or deletion of an officer's name from Regimental list is by appearance of his name in AIF List. Pencilled notes of pending additions or deletions should however, be made.

Regimental Supernumerary List

5. When an Officer sustains an injury, becomes a casualty or is evacuated on account of sickness and is likely to be absent for more than 30 days, recommendation for his transfer to R.S.L. should be forwarded without delay. This is particularly necessary during operations in order that replacements may be effected promptly. Posting of an Officer to RSL removes him from effective strength of unit and creates a vacancy for replacement; but does not remove his name from Regimental List.

6. Permanent Supernumerary List

The following may be transferred to PSL.

(a) An officer classified by a Medical Board as Class B or D.

(b) An officer who has been on R.S.L. for 6 months and whose return in the immediate future is not likely.

(c) Officers whose age prohibits employment with their unit.

Transfer to P.S.L. removes an Officers name from Regimental List.

7. Promotion whilst holding a particular appointment.

(i) Recommendations for the promotion of officers holding staff appointments will be accompanied by a certificate stating that the officer concerned is fitted to fulfil all responsibility [illegible] in the rank to which he is recommended, in the arm or service to which he belongs (GRO A604/42.

(ii) Officers appointed to position of Adjt, Q.M. Staff Captain etc may be promoted to the rank provided in W.E. Such promotions are not gained regimentally, and do not involve any alteration in regimental seniority. Officers may be promoted to these temporary ranks irrespective of their position on Regimental Seniority List. Promotions so granted do not involve supercession. On relinquishing an appointment, temporary rank gained by virtue of that appointment must be also relinquished unless the officer concerned is the senior Lieut in his Unit, and a vacancy exists, when, with consent of his CO, he may retain his temporary rank.

8. Reports on Officers

AMR & O 1267 requires that any report on an Officer shall be initialled by him. This applies particularly in cases where a report of an adverse nature is submitted. GRO A772/43 sets out in detail the nature and scope of such reports. This order must be observed in all cases where a recommendation is submitted for disposal of an Officer as a result of an adverse report.

9. Vague and incomplete reports do not assist Higher Formations to decide disposal of an officer. Full details, with a recommendation as to ultimate disposal of an officer adversely reported upon, must be given.

MAINTENANCE : ORGANIZATION OF STAGING POSTS AND JEEP HEADS

PLANNING.

FSR Vol 1 Chap. XI Sec 55 defines Maintenance as

"The process of keeping the forces in the field complete in personnel, animals and material."

All these articles of war, as applied to a Bde group whether they be individuals or inanimate objects, pass through the adm. organization of Div, Bde, Bn etc. in their progress towards the place of expenditure. Your normal adm. planning and work to meet the orders of your Comd. requires a lot of thought and activity on your part, to ensure the adm. machine works reasonably smoothly. However, you have the knowledge that an honest mistake can generally be easily rectified with aid of mechanized transport and modern communications.

In the maintenance of troops under jungle fighting conditions however, you will find yourself committed to a task of fine planning and attention to detail which will surpass any previous set of conditions you have experienced. Advance planning and foresight is vital and you must keep yourself and your Comd fully informed as to the supply situation. There is generally a very slender margin between the consuming troops and the stocks on hand and Comds are often compelled to commence operations with what appear to be inadequate reserves of all supplies. In this type of warfare even what appear to be minor tactical decisions assume major administrative importance. You can not do your Q administration from your office by telephone. It is a case of go and see or court sure disaster administratively, and failure administratively will mean failure of the operations

ORGANISATION

You will probably be dealing with the most primitive and most modern methods of transport known, i.e. native carriers and air transport. They are analogous in this respect. If you commit them to a task and make a mistake with their loading you cannot as a rule send them or portion of them back for the correct load in order to overcome your mistake. With most other forms of transport, particularly MT you can do a double trip when necessary, but not so with the two forms of transport referred to, particularly with reference to your native carriers.

In a number of instances during these lectures we have referred to L's of C. You have [illegible] that it is the Bde [illegible] we have referred to and it is the organisation of these L's of C or track that we propose to enlarge upon now.

Jeep Head

The most important place in your area in so far as maintenance is concerned is where mechanical transport ceases to function and all your supplies are committed to the "carry line." This area is invariably [illegible] on the road or track at the place where it becomes finally impassable to wheeled traffic. As you will generally have to use jeeps for the final haul it has become to be recognized as "Jeep Head." Your jeep head is your regulating [illegible] station as it were and any thing committed to the carriers beyond that point has used up the capacity of a carrier which can not be regained. You will remember that in a previous lecture, we told you that the Bde Comd should control all the carriers on the Bde Track and particularly those leaving jeep head. You may have wondered why we recommend that the Bde Comd and his staff, who are busy fighting a battle should be worried with supplies which which/may be far in their rear. I will read to you a description of the MUBO L of C as contained in 3 Aust Div report on WAU-SALAMAUA operations.

"This L of C was the main land artery of supply for 17 Aust Inf Bde and followed the line of the old surveyed track from SALAMAUA to WAU, with daily staging camps at BALLAMS, SUMMIT, SKINDEWAI, GUADAGASAL and intermediate camps at KAISINIK, McDUFFS and BANANA. The country through which this track ran consisted of a series of jungle covered ridges and valleys with a surveyed bench cut track on the best grade possible. Natives carried a maximum of 40 lbs gross weight. Continuous track maintenance and improvement had been carried out and was necessary to carry the great volume of traffic. The daily movement of native carrier lines, movement of troops and evacuation of casualties caused heavy traffic, and constant rain and land slips soon made the track unserviceable without continuous maintenance. By a progressive system of improvement under engineer direction the carrier times were improved and the physical condition of the natives accordingly improved. Provision was made for the establishment of Staging Camp, Medical Post (capable of holding stretcher cases over night), DID, ANGAU representatives, Native Labour camps at each staging post and YMCA and Red Shield Huts were established at convenient points."

This MUBO area was the responsibility of 17 Aust Inf Bde. You will note that when jeep head was at BALLAMS it was a 3 day stage from there to GUADAGASAL which was the place where the supplies were broken down to coy or area lots. At each of those staging posts and including jeep head there was a line of carriers sufficient to take up the cargo progressively to deliver it to the next stage. The entry point for all stores was jeep head, the exit point was the consuming troops. There were never enough carriers, therefore there was a permanent shortage of all classes of supplies. As an example of the conditions you may encounter you will be interested to know that during the WAU-SALAMAUA campaign the [illegible] daily delivery per man per day including all stores and ammunition was 9½ lbs out of a normal anticipated provision in the field of 25 lbs per man.

I am sure you will appreciate the point of view, that the Comd who is responsible for the defence of the area, is vitally interested in the nature of every boy load which leaves "Jeep Head," for as from the time the carrier shoulders his 40 lb burden at jeep head and commences the first daily stage, that specific cargo is committed to each successive days stage.

Control

It was found that the most workable method to maintain the desired control was for the S.C. to be informed each night by the officer in charge at jeep head of the exact number of carriers who would be available at jeep head for carrying next morning and for the S.C. then to instruct the jeep head officer as to the nature of the cargo to be carried. If there was a constant number of carriers available and forward supplies were reasonably well balanced the S.C. may lay down a standard loading on a percentage basis, e.g. 60% ammunition, 30% rations, 10% miscellaneous stores or some similar loading.

The organisation at jeep head is of some importance. The first and most important action is to appoint an officer to be responsible for the coordination of all supplies. He may be a Regimental Officer or an AASC officer, preferably the latter. He may or may not be in complete charge of the area. It should be his duty to ensure:-

(a) That the various responsible persons are advised of the number of carrier loads they will be required to furnish daily.

(b) That all stores are accurely packed and labelled.

(c) That the authorised weights for the stage are not exceeded.

(d) That the stores are packed, assembled and ready in ample time for picking up by the carriers.

(e) That manifests are prepared with each type of consignment and that an overall manifest is made out for all stores on the "Boy line".

(f) That all incoming stores or jeeps are checked, signed for, and stored under the best possible conditions.

(g) That all transit or reserve stores held at Jeep head are stored and maintained under the best possible conditions.

(h) That the required number of escorts are provided at each intermediate staging post.

There is generally an officer or NCO carrying out similar duties at each staging post, but as he generally only handles "through" cargo already packed his duties are correspondingly less.

Boy line Assembly

The general procedure for preparation of the "boy line" each morning is for all stores to be weighed, securely packed with destination and weight clearly painted on the package. The cargo is then stacked at the pick up position. The ANGAU Officer "lines" all the natives at the compound and personally inspects every man. The required number of carriers are then detailed. If there is no ANGAU escort provided the soldier escorts proceeds to the compound and collects the carriers. They then, under escort pick up the cargo and proceed on their journey.

ACCOMODATION

Have a plan for improvement of accomodation. There will always be a number of light duty natives available for such work. Try and make your men as comfortable as possible - particularly try and give them an all purpose mess and drying hut for them to dry out in when they get wet.

At all staging posts incl Jeepheads you will be required to provide a certain amount of accomodation and facilities over and above that required for the tps stationed there. The following list is a guide only.

For Stores

(a) Cover [illegible] separate places for

(i) Food
(ii) Amn
(iii) Miscellaneous stores
(iv) POL.

If the quantity of cargo being handled is small, necessity may compel you to place everything under the one roof. If so have an organized layout as above.

(b) Dunnage and level foundations for amn in transit or in reserve.

(c) Huts for Ord, Postal, etc. representatives to work in.

For Personnel

(a) Huts complete with bush beds sufficient to accomodate the anticipated number of organized staging personnel. e.g. a Coy, Pl. etc. with provision for fireplaces where possible.

(b) Medical Staging facilities as ordered.

(b) Cooking facilities sufficient to handle the staging tps. An expansion of the kitchen handling the staging post tpt is the best method.

(c) Sufficient latrines, ablution arrangements and other hygiene requirements to accomodate the staging tps.

(d) A stock of firewood where possible for use on fires "drying out" staging personnel.

(e) An "Open house" for "individual travellers" of all ranks.

Keep in mind that the method of travel is by foot for Generals and Privates alike. They all suffer to some degree from physical exhaustion when nearing the end of a stage and look upon the staging camp as a haven of rest. Try and make it one, particularly the privates.

Native Compound

Wherever you have natives stationed at a Staging post, they require accomodation. They are very adept at throwing up "Leanto's" or huts for themselves, and are not adverse to picking the best piece of ground in the area.

If it is a new area have the ANGAU representative site the compound at the same time as you fix on the general lay out of the camp. Try and keep the native quarters at least ½ mile away from the camp. If possible it should be near the track the carriers are working on. If there is running water have the native quarters below the camp. In order to avoid a source of malarial infection through mosquitoes biting natives and then the soldiers try and have all natives out of the camp area before sundown.

Tracks

The improvement and maintenance of carrier tracks is all important. Have a definite plan for this task and stick to it. Ask ANGAU for suggestions as to how to go about it. Don't try and be an Engineer and try to build a road. Concentrate on a good foot track. The constant movement of carriers and tps soon pushes the track away from under your feet. By good maintenance and improvement you may be able to reduce a 4 hour carry or journey to 2 hours.
Points to watch for are:-

(a) An easier gradient. The native pads usually follow the shortest line between any two points. Contours don't interest them very much.

(b) Giving better foothold by "stepping" the grade.

(c) providing hand holds or [illegible] on very steep grades. Yes, they are that steep in places.

(d) Brushing flat sections of the track, i.e. clearing of accumulated mud. Any ANGAU representative will explain this process to you.

(e) improving drainage.

(f) providing foot bridges across deep gullies. A good tree dropped in the right place is sometimes sufficient, but as time permits try for something better.

(g) corduroy. Turn the bark side of the timber uppermost if it is split timber. It doesn't make much difference to the soldier but it means a lot to the feet of the native.

(h) Bench cutting.

Finally, think, plan and act. Anticipate your problems and prevent them from developing into a real headache.

The lectures given during this short course have all been designed to provide you with the information which we have gained through experience. If you put to practical use what we have passed on to you, your task of maintenance will be much easier.

You have certain text books to guide you which are the result of years of study and experience. Their teachings are sound, but do not be too rigid in the application of your knowledge. Approach your problems with the intention of carrying out a policy of commonsense application of certain guiding principles.

Sound administration, cheerfulness and adaptability has destroyed the Jap bogey, and sound administration will be possibly the largest contributing factor to complete destruction of the Jap forces.

3 AUST DIV ADM COURSE - MAINTENANCE FOR JUNGLE WARFARE
AUSTRALIA FEB 44

FUNCTION OF POSTAL SERVICE
SALVAGE " CANTEEN "

It is not proposed to deal in detail with the basic organization and function of these services; but rather to concentrate on the variations from normal procedure which were necessary under the prevailing conditions.

POSTAL

The value placed by every soldier on the receipt of mail is well known to you all, and a serious breakdown in the forwarding of mail can cause great damage to morale. The constant supply of any commodity in the field is entirely reliant on the transport available to effect movement to the area where the commodity is required. With supply entirely by air, the space that can be allotted to mail will normally be restricted. For example, during the WAU-SALAMAUA operations 120 lbs of first class mail and 500 lbs of second class mail was given aircraft loading space daily. This poundage was inadequate to clear all mail arriving at Base Post Office MORESBY from the mainland, and as opportunity occurred the poundage was increased. However, an accumulation of 110,000 lbs of second class mail occurred at MORESBY.

It is recommended that, in order that mail for personnel evacuated from forward areas will not be despatched from the Base Post Office, that the unit Postal Orderlies be retained with unit LOB personnel at Base, and they can then sort unit mail and withdraw letters and parcels for personnel evacuated from the unit to hospitals etc. This system necessitates units training an assistant postal orderly to function with the unit, and it is recommended that all units should have a trained under-study to the Postal orderly. The attachment of unit postal orderlies in this manner may not always be necessary, but the understudy will always be useful.

Distribution within the Divisional Area

The organization for distribution of mail within the Div or Bde area will differ with each situation. An example of how it could be handled is as follows. Mail arriving by landing A/c at WAU or BULOLO was collected by the F.P.O. staff stationed at the airfield, sorted and distributed direct to units within the jeephead. Mail for units in the forward areas was collected by unit rear details, prepared for movement by carrier line, and delivered to respective jeep heads for movement along the L of C.

Postal stations can be established at each jeephead and Postal corps personnel [illegible] along the L of C to the forward areas.

This would enable distribution to be supervised by Postal Corps personnel and first class mail can generally be delivered within a few days of posting on the Mainland.

Delivery of Mail by Air Dropping.

In order to effect expeditious delivery of mail to forward areas, delivery by air dropping could be carried out in certain areas where recovery is good. As the recovery at the dropping ground at NUNNS POI was consistently good, mail was dropped to 15 Bde units from DOUGLAS a/c loaded at MORESBY or DOBADURA.

DOBADURA/

Outward Mail

The movement of outward mail varies in the same manner as inward mail. It was found that outward mail could be back loaded on carrier lines to WAU or BULOLO airfields and thence by back loading of a/c to MORESBY.

Air Mail Letter Cards and Guinea Gold Newspapers

These were distributed by the Divisional Postal Unit to units within joephead, and dropped to forward areas.

SALVAGE

By the prompt establishment of a system for the recovery and evacuation of salvage in the initial stages of an operation, much unnecessary work can be avoided. It is essential to establish this system simultaneously with the system of supply, in order that no opportunity will be lost to effect the maximum salvage of our own and enemy equipment.

Unit Responsibility

The success of the system of salvage is reliant, to a great degree, on the arrangements made within units. Unless the personnel of units are 'salvage minded' during static or training periods, they will not fully appreciate the importance of salvage during operations.

The units responsibility in field salvage is to establish dumps of salvage within their area ~~of responsibility~~, and if conditions permit, to back load salvage to rear areas along the supply channel. To achieve this, all officers must know what articles are salvagable and ensure within their own area that these articles are salvaged. Special attention must be paid to prevention of pilfering and souveniring of enemy equipment, as Intelligence and Ordnance can benefit greatly by the early receipt of complete articles of enemy equipment.

As an insight into the work of a Div Salvage Unit, the following quote is made from the Div Report on Operations in WAU-SALAMAUA area.

> "The Divisional Salvage Unit handled field salvage returned from forward areas in conjunction with the 102 FOD and 83 FAD. This unit also performed useful work under the direction of 2/25 Fd Pk Coy RAE in assisting with the salvage of civilian material, required for Engineer works. Only civilian material of immediate value was salvaged. One NCO and 2 OR were attached to each of 15 and 17 Aust Inf Bdes to supervise salvage in the forward areas, and did excellent work, but owing to the impossibility of backloading by native carrier lines, this salvage could only be sorted and dumped in suitable areas, pending arrangements for removal. Some difficulty was experienced in effecting backloading from WAU and BULOLO by aircraft, as individual pilots would not accept salvage as backloading."

CANTEENS

Canteen services will function in the normal manner by establishing bulk stores, and movement forward should be arranged with other supplies.

WAR DIARY "Q" BRANCH 3 AUST DIV FOR MONTH OF FEB 44.

GENERAL - The function of Q Branch during Feb, has been to control the inward and outward movement of units, and the establishment and improvement of camp sites in FAIRI area.

MOVEMENT OF UNITS OUTWARD

101 AUST BDE SP COY

- All necessary arrangements for movement of 101 Aust Bde Sp Coy to NEW GUINEA were completed at end of Jan 44, and on 16 Feb, Coy less one Pl, entrained at TOIGA for movement to Port of EMBARKATION.

Unit MT was withdrawn and distributed to units throughout the Formation. Prior arrangements had been made for unit transport to be available on arrival at dis-embarkation port.

PROJECTED MOVEMENTS OUTWARD

23 AUST INF BDE GP

- On receipt of Warning Order on 3 Feb 44, the following units of 23 Aust Inf Bde Gp are being prepared for tropical service:-

HQ 23 Aust Inf Bde
23 Aust Inf Bde Sig Sec

2/109 Aust IAD
23 Aust Fd Coy
109 Aust Bde Wkshops
109 Aust Bde Ord Fd Pk
Det 12 Aust Div Postal Unit

Vehicles will not be taken by the Bde Gp and arrangements are in hand for their return to 13 AOD.

MOVEMENTS INWARD

23 Aust Fd Coy ) On arrival in this area, these units came 109 Aust Bde Wkshops ) under 23 Aust Inf Bde, and are being 109 Aust Bde Ord Fd Pk ) prepared for tropical service.

5 AUST INF BDE GP

Some personnel of 5 Aust Inf Bde Gp returning ex leave, have been redirected to this area, and are being fostered by 7 Aust Inf Bde. An Advance HQ 5 Aust Inf Bde has been established.
Personnel, whilst awaiting the arrival of the main bodies of units, have been utilized for working parties etc in the area.

3 AUST DIV TROOPS EX NEW GUINEA

No further advice has come to hand of the mvt of 3 Aust Div Troops ex NEW GUINEA, except for miscellaneous personnel of 3 Aust Div Sigs and 152 Aust G T Coy. It is contemplated that it will be some time before all Div Tps are concentrated in this area, due to personnel going direct on leave from port of Disembarkation.

Personnel of Sigs 3 Aust Div have set up a Det Sigs at this HQ, and at present control our sig communications.

SCHOOLS - Early in Feb 44, an Adm Course was conducted by 3 Aust Div, based on lessons learned whilst on operations in NEW GUINEA. This school was confined mainly to officers holding "A" and "Q" appointments in units of 23 Aust Inf Bde.

DRAINAGE - Necessary supplies are now to hand, and the drainage system of FAIRI area is now in the course of completion.

DAMAGE TO PROPERTY - Instances have occurred of damage to property of civilian owners in this area. It has been difficult to clarify the liability for the damage by the AMF, as it appears that other civilians are partly responsible for this malpractice.
