Barbara (Bobby) Court (nee Derrick): Holy Name 1964 – 1969

Barbara (Bobby) Court has dedicated herself to developing Catholic Education in Tasmania for more than three decades, from her time as School Captain of Holy Name in 1969 to her appointment as Principal of Guilford Young College in 2003, for tenure from 2004. She has shown leadership and vision in many roles: at Dominic College Senior Campus (1977-1994); as an inaugural Dean at Guilford Young College (1995-1997); and as Principal of Mount Carmel College (1998-2003). Her contributions include representation of the Catholic sector on the TASSAB Board; curriculum design and development; personal development; health and careers programs for students; strategic plans and policy initiatives; papers and presentations promoting Catholic values in education, citizenship, student development, gender equity and girls' education. She has given years of service on many educational committees, organisations and associations, both within Tasmania and nationally. She has been on the Executive of the Tasmanian Catholic Education Commission since 1998.
