

DOMINIC COLLEGE HALL OF ACHIEVEMENT

ACADEMIA

Dr. Damian Marriott: Dominic College 1973 - 1984

In 1997, Dr. Damian Marriott completed his Doctor of Philosophy (Policy Service for Distributed Systems) through the Imperial College of Science, Technology and Medicine in London, commencing his research in 1992. As a student, he excelled in mathematics in competition among secondary students from Australia, New Zealand and other Pacific countries (1980). On leaving school, he attended the University of Tasmania from 1986 – 1989 and completed a Bachelor of Science with Honours, majoring in Computing Technology. In 1990, he joined the Defence Science and Technology Organisation in Adelaide, where he was initially employed as an Information Technology Officer and then as a Cadet Research Scientist. He is currently employed as Senior Research Scientist in the International Networks Division.