Letter of recommendation: Denis Pagan, Stockdale and Leggo

We are writing to express our complete satisfaction with Denis Pagan as an agent.

We first contacted Denis in early 2011 with the view to selling our home. From the very first phone call, Denis was extremely generous with his time and advice, and offered his honest opinion minus any pretense so typical of the industry.

We decided not to sell at that time, but after meeting both Denis and Ryan, the decision was made on who we'd commission when the time was right.

Throughout our entire auction campaign Denis was professional, conscientious, and motivated. We always felt as though we were his only client.

Denis went above and beyond seeking advertising and exposure for our property, and worked tirelessly with potential buyers to achieve a positive result. With Ryan's auctioneer and negotiating skills, we were delighted to sell on auction day in what was a relatively low market.

As a person, Denis was a pleasure to work with. Easy to talk to, a good listener, easy to contact, and always prompt at returning our calls or answering our questions. Best of all, Denis is an agent who makes it his job to help you meet your goals rather than his.

Furthermore, aside from our sale, he has continued to offer advice and assistance in all aspects of buying and renovating; he has genuine concern for our interests.

We highly recommend Denis Pagan to anyone looking for an effective, reliable and honest real estate agent, and will certainly come back to him for any future real estate transactions.
