I Feel It Coming
The Weeknd
Featuring Daft Punk
Produced By Daft Punk
Album Starboy

[Intro: The Weeknd]
Yeah, uh

[Verse 1: The Weeknd]
Tell me what you really like
Baby, I can take my time
We don't ever have to fight
Just take it step-by-step
I can see it in your eyes
'Cause they never tell me lies
I can feel that body shake
And the heat between your legs

[Pre-Hook: The Weeknd]
You've been scared of love and what it did to you
You don't have to run, I know what you've been through
Just a simple touch and it can set you free
We don't have to rush when you're alone with me

[Hook: The Weeknd]
I feel it coming, I feel it coming, babe
I feel it coming, I feel it coming, babe
I feel it coming, I feel it coming, babe
I feel it coming, I feel it coming, babe

[Verse 2: The Weeknd]
You are not the single type
So baby, this the perfect time
I'm just tryna get you high (I'm just tryna, babe)
And faded off this touch
You don't need a lonely night
So

Directed by Warren Fu, the video features The Weeknd serenading Japanese model Kiko Mizuhara before they're turned to stone in the middle of space (NBD) and a later cameo from the French electronic duo. After this, don't be surprised if he gets even more comparisons to Michael Jackson.

In 1540 Henry gave the estate to the Earl of Hertford. It subsequently passed to Lord Carleton and then the Marquess of Queensberry. The Antrobus family of Cheshire bought the estate in 1824. During World War I an aerodrome (Royal Flying Corps "No. 1 School of Aerial Navigation and Bomb Dropping") was built on the downs just to the west of the circle and, in the dry valley at Stonehenge Bottom, a main road junction was built, along with several cottages and a cafe. The Antrobus family sold the site after their last heir was killed in the fighting in France. The auction by Knight Frank & Rutley estate agents in Salisbury was held on 21 September 1915 and included "Lot 15. Stonehenge with about 30 acres, 2 rods, 37 perches [12.44 ha] of adjoining downland

10:15:10 From Elena : Ty for showing that D. From what that little piece said it seems to be about them wanting to take people to their 'there'.. meaning what 'they' want to playout. They also said 'how' they do it in that piece (which we know) through the narrative of what they want people to create! ..through 'VISION'! ...but we dont abide by that anymore ;)

10:15:13 From Susanna.C : hugsssss Beth :)

10:15:14 From josie : Maybe something in the past needs to be let go....not the recent situation is just a trigger of old pain/trauma?

10:18:20 From zANavAShi : Listening to you share Beth, brings up lots of pain for me. I've done shitloads of therapy on my family-of-origin and even knowing it is "their shit" still hurts and is hard to detach from. I find that the awake and aware members of familys are often scapegoated - and become the "designated suffers" of the crazy family unit. That has been my family role :-(

10:22:43 From d : yep
10:22:45 From zANavAShi : Lisa, I know what you say is true, but I wonder if there is some kind of cellular entanglement bewtween family members - espically when you throw CPTSD into the mix - where their frequency triggers those cellular (past and present life) memories. It feels like a huge net of darkness descending upon me when I try to have any contact with my mother - takes me weeks to recover from even small amounts of contact with her. I have had to go for years and years sometimes avoiding my family, hoping it might be easier next time as I get stronger in myself... but that darkness still seeps through :-(

10:30:46 From zANavAShi : @ Kaya, the concept of "bots" has been helping me a LOT lately - many of the people I know (and some family) are just simply not human IMO
10:30:56 From Lori : i hear ya DANI, i do the that, someone comes up to me and tells me about whats going on in the news and i say, i dont care, dont want to hear about it.
