EASTERN SUBURBS
MEMORIAL PARK

ESMP

The Eastern Suburbs Memorial Park is in a peaceful setting overlooking Botany Bay. The Park is the resting place of many generations with Sydney families paying their respects to their loved ones in a beautiful environment within relatively close proximity to where they live and work. It has been an important part of the Sydney community since its first interment in 1893.

In 1938 the crematorium was opened to continue to provide personal choice and to ensure cultural requirements can be met. The Park now offers both convenience and modern facilities, including an on-site funeral home, café, condolence centre and florist.
