

Sheena Cameron & Louise Dempsey invite you to a professional learning workshop in New Plymouth

A balanced reading programme – reviewing the approaches

In this workshop, Sheena and Louise will review the modelled, shared, guided and independent approaches and share practical ideas for planning a realistic and manageable reading programme at all levels.

Session 1: An overview of a balanced reading programme

- Unpacking the reading process
- Creating opportunities for oral language in the reading programme

Session 2: Shared reading

- Using the shared reading approach at all levels of the school to explicitly teach comprehension, critical thinking and decoding

Session 3: Guided reading

- Planning and organising guided reading lessons
- Reviewing a range of generic activities that engage students, reduce teacher planning and offer an alternative to worksheets

Session 4: Independent reading

- Reviewing the importance of independent reading, including ideas to motivate and engage students in the reading process
