Presenters

Three different presenters from Queensland and other states will bring their own perspective to share on their experience of the NDIS. They will share the highs and lows of the experiences but most importantly some of the things you can do now to be prepared in this time of change.

Joe Condon (Warwick, QLD)

Joe Condon is the eldest brother of four and he lives in Warwick. After finishing school Joe moved into a group home until he expressed his wish to lead a more independent lifestyle. Joe returned to live in his family home for a number of years, while his family supported him to explore the possibility of living in his own home. He is the owner of a small business "Joe's Magic Mowing" which provides mowing, gardening and car cleaning services in his local area. Joe also manages a small paper run.

Gemma Condon (Warwick, QLD)

Gemma is Joe's mother and together with her husband, Tom, they have intentionally gathered Joe's brothers and other family members in a circle of support to assist Joe to reach his full personal potential. The circle also facilitates the support required to reach Joe's goals and plan for his future. Gemma and Tom were previously self-managing and have been able to continue to do so with Joe's NDIS funding with some great outcomes for Joe's life.

Gary Matthews (Mackay, QLD)

Gary lives in Mackay in North Queensland and is an active member of the Mackay community, particularly within organisations involved in the disability sector. He is an active and involved member of Queenslanders with Disability Network (QDN). As a Regional Facilitator, he represents QDN at local and regional events. Gary is a Peer facilitator of the Plan Ahead workshops and is also a QDN Local Support Group Convenor. Local Support Groups provide regular opportunities for people with NDIS plans, and others who are working toward a plan, to meet and discuss issues that are important to them. Gary is a professional photographer; he works with community groups to document their activities, however his real passion is abstract photography.

Additional speakers to be announced soon!
