

SHORT & SWEET

PD THAT WORKS A TREAT

Short Saturday Morning Workshops
Saturday 28th October - 9:00am - 12:00pm
Contemporary Learning Hub - Sunshine Coast

The Contemporary Learning Hub is proud to be offering another round of our popular Short & Sweet Saturday morning workshop programs. This round focuses on how iOS devices can be used in creative ways in the classroom to engage, support and challenge learners. Participants register to attend one of the following workshop sessions and will also have the chance to devour a super sweet morning tea.

MINECRAFT ADVENTURES

Join Apple Distinguished Educator Paul Shaw for this engaging hands-on workshop where you'll discover how you can use Minecraft Pocket Edition and a range of other creative apps to engage students in writing and storytelling processes in your classroom. Paul will share effective workflows that can be used in the classroom for creative tasks as well as how you can capture and export media from different apps to create products and texts that students can share with their peers and the broader community.

GET YOUR CLASS ANIMATED

Want to up the creativity levels in your classroom? Then come along to this hands-on workshop with our Hub Manager Kristine Kopelke where she'll share how you can power up engagement levels by letting students show what they know with animation. Kristine will explore a range of creative apps and workflows that you can use with your students and every participant will walk away having the confidence and knowledge they need to get students making 2D, 3D and stop motion animation sequences in the classroom. This workshop is designed for educators working in P-9 contexts.

THE WONDER OF WORKFLOWS

Come along to this session by Slide to Learn founder and Apple Distinguished Educator Jonathan Nalder to explore how through the use of Workflows you can take learning to the next level with iPads in your classroom. As well as unpacking how workflows can change how students work with iOS devices, Jonathan will also take you through some of his favourites. This workshop is targeted to educators working in Years 4-9 and will also share a range of apps that can be used creatively across a range of learning areas.
