SUPPORTING STUDENTS WITH INTELLECTUAL DISABILITY AND CHALLENGING BEHAVIOUR

Maria Burn, AUSTSWIM Presenter

When students have an Intellectual Disability, they have a reduced ability to think and at times may use challenging behaviour because they may not know how to communicate to others.

AUSTSWIM teachers must learn how to explore and embrace difference to achieve anticipated outcomes. In this session Maria will show you to observe, analyse, modify and adjust your existing bag of teaching tricks to include all students in your lesson, change can be exciting as well as challenging.

THE CORE AND MORE

Annette Chatterton AUSTSWIM WETS Aqua Presenter, Fitness Lecturer & Presenter

Join Annette to learn all about the core. Understand how the deep pelvic and trunk muscles work together for core and pelvic stability. This workshop will improve your own core awareness and activation, as well as developing knowledge, understanding an application for swimmers and aqua fitness participants.

MASTERING THE PRE-SQUAD SKILLS & DRILLS FREESTYLE/BACKSTROKE

Carol Veldhuyzen iSwim Manager and AUSTSWIM Presenter

Moving from pre-squad groups to more experienced squad levels is daunting for our students. The skills and drills they need are intense and more technical than ever before. Don't miss this opportunity to see Carol take swimmers through their drills and skills to ensure bad habits don't follow them through their journey into higher squad levels.

→ SESSION 2

12:15PM - 1:05PM

INNOVATIVE WATER FAMILIARISATION

Robyn Ormsby
AUSTSWIM Presenter

Do we really need Water Familiarisation?? As teachers of swimming and water safety, we are many things to a new and introductory student, but when it comes to allowing sufficient time for water familiarisation - do we do it well? Austswim teachers perhaps, for many different reasons, may not pay enough attention to their beginnings. How can we help a person overcome anxieties - great or small, teach them water skills, be safe and show them the sheer "joy of being in water"? Water Familiarisation is discussed in this session with some practical ideas to help to achieve this critical stage, build understanding and gain their confidence.

ADULT LEARNERS - ENCOURAGE AND HELP THEM REACH THEIR GOALS!

Masters Swimming South Australia

Sometimes we find adult students the most challenging. It may have taken them years to get enough courage up to even look into swimming lessons, let alone attend them. Building rapport and trust with adults is essential to get them progressing. This session will show you teaching strategies and methods to encourage and ensure your adults learners achieve their goals.

HIIT THE WATER!

Christine Naysmith
WETS Master Trainer

What better environment to experience High Intensity Interval exercise? The H2O properties of resistance, buoyancy and turbulence is a perfect setting for all population groups to experience the ultimate in a HIIT group training session. Join Christine for a session that includes cardio, strength, power, agility and even some healthy competition! Leave with drills, skills and thrills to raise HRs, fitness levels and calorie expenditure. A great pre-lunch work out!

LUNCH

1:05PM - 1:50PM

→ CELEBRATING DIVERSITY

1:50PM - 2:40PM

PETER TAYLOR

Diversity Officer for the West Beach Surf Life Saving Club

Peter delivers the On the Same Wave program, supporting people from refugee and migrant communities to become volunteer surf lifesavers. He will be joined by one of the first program graduates, Cecile Saidi who is one of nine past participants who have gone on to gain swim instructor accreditation to support their communities to learn to swim. Peter and Cecile will share their experiences of this award-winning initiative and explore the importance of diversity and inclusion in water safety programs.

→ ASSESSING COMPETENCIES, MAKING JUDGEMENTS AND SUPPORTING LEARNING

2:40PM - 3:20PM

PROFESSOR DAWN PENNY

AUSTSWIM Presenters, Assessors and Teachers are all challenged to assess competencies. In this session we will look at what 'quality assessment' involves, how assessment of competencies can be embedded within a supportive and inclusive teaching and learning process, and explore the process of making (sometimes difficult) judgements.

→ SESSION 3

3:30PM - 4:20PM

LEADERSHIP - IS YOURS EFFECTIVE?

Simon Wetherill
Sponsored by Mattioli

Coordinators are presented with the difficult problem of keeping everyone happy. Can your leadership skills ensure that staff, parents and other stakeholders are willing to support you in the tough decisions you will have to make as a coordinator/manager. Join Simon's session to help provide insight and knowledge on how to effectively deal with programs, people and developing the business. This session is a must to know how to lead and manage more effectively.

SURVIVAL STRATEGIES FOR INFANTS AND PRESCHOOLERS

Alina Graham, Director
All about Aquatics
AUSTSWIM Presenter

29 Children aged between 0-4 lost their life in the last year from drowning. Falls into the water were the cause of 76% of drownings. How much of what we teach in lessons are re-enforcing positive or negative behaviors around water? It's time to revisit our programs for infancy and preschoolers and make sure we have crucial survival strategies built into our programs that are based on their developmental levels. Come to learn essential skills that must be included in infants and preschool programs.

CLASS CONTROL - KEEP YOUR CLASS LEARNING

Maria Burn
AUSTSWIM Presenter

AUSTSWIM teachers are continually challenged to engage students in wanting to participate and learn. AUSTSWIM teachers of Swimming and Water Safety and WETS Aqua Instructors must be able to adapt to unexpected circumstances and cater to the unique needs of students whilst maintaining a smooth flow of activity, this includes communicating effectively with individual students as well as the class as a whole.

Join Maria IN THE POOL to enhance your knowledge and understanding as Maria shares tips and techniques on how to observe, analyse and modify to successfully teach an inclusive lesson and keep your class learning.

AFTERNOON TEA

4:20PM - 4:40PM

→ SESSION 4

4:40PM - 5:30PM

THE BIG MOVE

Jade Calverley - Childcare Worker and National Swimming, Coach and Instructor

Join this session to understand how to remove barriers and open up the world of aquatic for swimmers with a functional disability. There is a whole new world to explore when moving from therapy to swimming and water safety lessons and beyond. Jade will use her personal stories to take you on a unique journey where you will hear first-hand how swimming therapy changed her life.

MANAGING SWIM SCHOOL PROGRAMS

Carolyn Veldhuyzen iSwim Manager and
AUSTSWIM Presenter

In the busy business of running a swim school, owners and managers can feel like they are forever chasing their tails to keep their swim schools as full as possible. Programs and social media are often the aspects we need to spend more time on...but it seems we never get enough time. They are essential for our business to flourish. In this session, Carol will share some great strategies so you can look towards growing our programs and our social media presence.
