

Historic Church
Hunters Hill

The Government have now handed the Church over to the Church Property Trustees as all the old Trustees are dead. There has been a great deal of difficulty in arriving at this decision, but all matters are now settled.

~~The District is increasing~~
It is hoped that the attendance at the Church will now increase. The congregation has from neglect been considerably reduced, but if an energetic Curate was ~~being~~ given charge of the District with one service on Sunday Evening his spare time could be utilized by the present Rector in many ways and he could visit the congregation and so obtain a large attendance.

It is desirable to rename the old Church which was originally called "All Saints" but as the new Church when it was built took this name, the old Church should be renamed.

Some people call it the Fig Tree Church but as there is an Hotel opposite the Church of that name it is desirable that the Church should have another name.

Mr W. D. Anshon
de Melham
Hunters Hill