Dear Sir,

Jugumy

Can you tell me through your paper if children going to school can travel free on trains. There is a one teacher school where I reside but so as to give my children the benefits of a school with 10 teachers I would like to give them the advantages of the larger school. The school I refer to is the next station to where I reside, & is only 3 miles per train. As the children are growing up the school I refer to where I reside has not got any senior children attending. The eldest child about 10 years old. If children can travel free to a superior school adjoining station to where I live I will avail myself of the privilege & I will be glad to have your reply as early as convenient.

Yours truly

Mrs Jordan
