HOME, SWEET HOME.

'Mid pleasures and palaces
Though we may roam,
Be it ever so
There's no place like home!
A charm from the skies
Seems to hallow us there,
Which seek thro' the world,
Is ne'er met with elsewhere.

Home! home, sweet, sweet home!
There's no place like home,
There's no place like home!

HEROES OF THE DARDANELLES.

To arms, ye sons of the Empire!
The foe is at the gate,
With sword, and fire, and murder,
Affame with undying hate.

Our gallant boys were fighting 'midst the poison, shot and shell,
Hill Sixty, and the crimes at sea were culled from deepest hell,
The cry of little children, and the lives of friends we knew,
Called for vengeance, and it called to you.
The call—it came for men and guns, to fight a mighty foe;
We sent a hundred thousand men—they volunteered to go.
They sailed away, so bright and gay, with drum and trumpets' blare,
All singing "Tipperary" and "Australia Will Be There."

They were
Sons of Australia,
Steady and strong,
True to our country,
Righting a wrong.
And they proved their bravery,
As history now tells,
When they fought and died like heroes,
In that charge at the Dardanelles.

AUSTRALIA'S BOYS WERE THERE.

There were a lot of arguments going on they say,
As to whether dear old England should have gone into the fray:
But right-thinking people all wanted her to fight,
For when there's shady business, Britannia puts it right.

"Rally round the banner of your country,
Take the field with brothers o'er the foam;
On land or sea, wherever you be,
Keep your eye on Germany."
But England, Home and Beauty had no cause to fear.
Could auld acquaintance be forgot?
No! No! No!
Australia's Boys were there!

When old John Bull is threatened by foes on land or sea,
His far-born sons are ready, and at his side will be.
From Afric, India, Canada went men to do or die,
And Motherland was glad to hear Australia's battle-cry:

"Rally round the banner of your country,
Take the field with brothers o'er the foam;
On land or sea, wherever you be,
Keep your eye on Germany."
But England, Home and Beauty had no cause to fear.
Could auld acquaintance be forgot?
No! No! No!
Australia's Boys were there!

TILL THE BOYS COME HOME.

They were summoned from the hillside,
They were called in from the glen,
And the country found them ready
At the stirring call for men.
Let no tears add to their hardship,
As the soldiers pass along;
And, although your heart is breaking,
Make it sing this cheery song—

Keep the home fires burning,
While your hearts are yearning.
Though your lads are far away
They dream of Home.
There's a silver lining through the dark cloud shining.
Turn the dark cloud inside out
Till the boys come home.

Over seas there came a pleading:
"Help a nation in distress."
And we gave our glorious laddies:
Honour bade us do no less.
For no gallant son of Britain
To a foreign yoke shall bend,
And no Englishman is silent
To the sacred call of Friend.

Keep the home fires burning,
While your hearts are yearning.
Though your lads are far away
They dream of Home.
There's a silver lining through the dark cloud shining.
Turn the dark cloud inside out
Till the boys come home.
