MELBOURNE: AUSTRALIAN ARMY STRENGTH. Australia's military strength has been augmented by the recent return of an important Australian Unit from the Lybian battlefields. This unit is part of the British Armies which successfully withstood the siege of Tobruk and finally defeated the Nazi Germans under General Rommel in Lybia.

Great significance is attached to the fact that this famous unit arrived in Australia after a voyage of 5,000 miles without losing a single man and without even sighting a Japanese ship.

MELBOURNE: AIR ACTIVITIES. General MacArthur's Australian and American bombers and fighter planes are keeping up daily attacks on Japanese-held points in the South West Pacific Area. Over the weekend, the following localities were again raided: New Guinea: Wewak, Finschhafen, Lae, Salamaua, Mubo, Bogia. Other sectors: Ambon, Tanimbar Islands.

TOKYO. Great efforts will be made to increase the efficiency of the land transport system of Japan. A very heavy burden has been thrown upon the railways in particular by the serious shipping shortage. The Government hopes that land transport systems may be able to increase efficiency by 10%.

SHIPPING WORLD. It was announced from Tokyo that the S.S. "Takashio Maru" had been sunk off Formosa by an Allied submarine.

Reports from China confirm that traffic between Shanghai and Nagasaki has been disrupted as a result of Allied submarine successes. The reported Japanese losses include, among others, the "Nagasaki Maru", "Kobe Maru" and "Yokohama Maru".

In view of the increasing success of Allied attacks on Japanese ships in their efforts to reach army outposts in the South, the High Command has decided to take the following precaution. In future no complete unit will be embarked on one ship but will be dispersed throughout the convoy. The loss of any one vessel, therefore, will not mean the loss of an entire unit, or of the equipment for an entire unit.

TOKYO: HOME FRONT. The Director of Fibre Bureau of the Ministry of Commerce and Industry admitted the failure of the cotton growing program in North China, where the production has decreased from ten million piculs to a few million. No improvement can be expected in the next few years, the minister added.

This situation is serious for Japan, where cotton has already been unobtainable for domestic use these past three years.

Now further cotton mills have to close down and the deterioration in quality of soldiers' uniforms and other cotton-containing equipment is held unavoidable.

GOSSIP GATHERING: TOJO'S DILEMMA. It is reported on reliable authority that some time ago Premier Hideki Tojo arranged a secret consultation with the well-known astrologer, Professor Donsho Kodama. It has been divulged that on this occasion the Professor tried to convince the Prime Minister of the necessity in the interests of the State of changing his christian name for a more propitious one. His present name cannot but be regarded as an ill omen for Japan's future success in war, as the characters with which it is written prophesy an excellent opportunity for England.

Premier Tojo, deeply impressed with the learned Professor's pronouncement, showed himself quite willing and even eager to decide upon a suitable new name with the astrologer's assistance. The name in view, TSUGUKI, would imply that the opportunity is favourable for Asia.

As a person of high social standing could ill afford to use a name which had not been officially registered, investigation has been made as to the possibility of a change of registration. To his great concern Premier Tojo who was able to start the G.E.A. war almost on his own, has found it to be impossible to effect this change as it is against the rules and usage of civic registration in Japan. A solution of this difficulty, which seems to be worrying the Premier even more than weightier cares of State, has still to be found.
