

COPIED FROM "THE AGE", (AUSTRALIAN PAPER)
Oct 25th. 1915.

THE FIRST GUN ASHORE.

Eye Witness's Testimony.

In connection with a re-cent discussion carried on through the columns of "The Age" as to which unit of Australian Artillery possessed the honor of landing the first Gun in Gallipolli, Mr. J.T. Barker, a member of the A.L.F. now in Melbourne, writes:-

"As a returned member of the 4th, Battery A.F.A. which left these Shores just over 12 Months ago and being present at Gabe Tepe on that Memorable and never to be forgotten Sunday, 25th, April, I have no doubt that the honor belongs to the 4th, Battery, under Major O.F. Phillips.

It was the A. sub-section gun, under the most popular and efficient Serjeant Norman Ellsworth. It was Man handled and pulled up the Cliffs by 100 Men, more or less."
