This Unit is still employed on the discharge of frozen meat etc various ships which is loaded direct to trucks for despatch to the various sections at the front all surplus quantities being transferred to Cold Storage & held as reserve against further demands when ships are not discharging. The work is rather uninteresting & does not lend itself to the qualities of the practical butcher being brought into operation yet the men go at their work cheerily & have put up some good records in the handling of the consignments. to Thom Capt 9th Butchery O.C. 5 Aust F=
