116. TIME ZONE SUFFIX

The following instructions are issued to standardise the time zone suffix used on messages.

(a) For messages addressed within the Division only

Local time should be used. When using Korean Daylight Saving Time the suffix will be IK and when using Korean Standard Time the suffix will be HI

(b) For messages addressed to all higher or lateral formations or outside the theatre

Greenwich Mean Time will be used. The suffix for this is Z. This time is nine and a half hours behind Korean Daylight Saving Time and eight and a half hours behind Korean Standard Time.

117. HEAT STROKE AND HEAT EXHAUSTION

HEAT STROKE

1. This is caused by failure of the heat regulating mechanism of the body. The temperature of the body consequently rises to an abnormal degree which may cause unconsciousness and even permanent damage to the brain and death. The onset is often sudden, but frequently an ill-defined feeling of giddiness, headache, exhaustion and diminution of sweating heralds an attack.

HEAT EXHAUSTION

2. This is due to depletion of the body of salt and water The excessive sweating caused by physical work in a tropical climate may amount to a gallon of water and an ounce of salt a day. Failure to replace either or both will soon lead to exhaustion.The onset is usually gradual with fatigue, headache, giddiness, muscular cramps and confusion, but sometimes it is more sudden, particularly in a tired man. In later stages, profuse sweating, pallor and colapse may be found.

FACTORS CONDUCTIVE TO HEAT STROKE AND HEAT EXHAUSTON AND THEIR PREVENTION

3. Shortage of salt and water

Men must be encouraged to take plenty of salt with their food. Drinking water must be freely available. A small amount of salt(0.1%, two teaspoonful per gallon) in drinking water is not unpleasant and can be added if the Unit Medical Officer considers it advisable. In the past deaths have been caused by the mistaken belief that men can be trained to manage with less water than their bodies require by a system of gradual short rationing.

4. Overworking before acclimatisation

Casualties due to heat are always far greater among men who have only recently arrived in a hot climate. New troops training in hot weather should not start a full programme in the heat of the day until they have worked up to it by easy stages.

5 Lack of sleep

A tired man is much more liable to develop ill-effects from the heat than one who has had enough rest.

6. A temperature due to infection, eg sore throat

A man with a temperature is already part of the way to heat stroke and should run no risks.

7. Alcohol

Excess of alcohol during the heat of the day predisposes to both heat stroke and heat exhaustion

8. Poor ventilation and air stagnation

Anything that prevents a free flow of air over the skin hinders the evaporation of sweat and the cooling of the body. Too many and too tight clothes, poor ventilation of tents and barracks, marching in close order are all factors which must be borne in mind.

9. Humidity

The climate of JAPAN and KOREA is rendered dangerous only by its high humidity, The shade temperature is not a sufficient yardstick without taking humidity into consideration, since the more moisture there is present in the air the poorer will be evaporation of sweat and cooling of the body.

FIRST AID MEASURES

10 Heatstroke

Place the sufferer in the shade, loosen clothing and spray with cold water.

11 Heat Exhaustion

Rest in the shade and provide a liberal amount of drinking water to which salt has been added in the proportion of two teaspoonsful per gallon.

12 RMO will give instruction in this matter before the onset of the hot weather.

NOTICES

WATERLOO DAY

1 RAR is affiliated with the Grenadier Guards. To mark this affiliation we use the " British Grenadiers" as our Regimental March and exchange messages on various significant days of the year.

One of these days is WATERLOO DAY 18 June. On this day in 1815 the First Regiment of Footguards at the Battle of Waterloo defeated the Grenadiers of the French Imperial Army As a result they were permitted to use the title First or Grenadier Regiment of Footguards a title which they hold to this day.

On 18 Jun 1955 the following message was sent to the Grenadier Guards.

"Offrs and men of First Battalion Royal Australian Regiment join me in sending our greetings on WATERLOO Day (.) on this day when you celebrate a great vistory may we pray that the bonds between the members of the British Commonwealth represented in our affiliation become more strongly forged in time of peace (.) G B COMBES Lt Col

A reply was received from Grenadier Guards as follows:

All ranks Grenadier Guards thank the 1 Bn Royal Aust Regt for their kind greetings sent on WATERLOO DAY which they warmly reciprocate (.) Our close affiliation is a great source of pride and satisfaction (.) Signed (.) WINNINGTON Colonel Commanding Grenadier Guards
