Angus Cameron was killed on Oct.4th at Broodseinde, and I helped to bury him. I was near enough to see that he was killed outright. We were in the front line when the shell got him and we buried him and four others right in the line a few yards fromwhere he fell. He had an idea that he would get killed. He was a fine fellow. I think his people live in Scotland, but he had relatives at Trangie, N.S. W.
