William Wallace Butler

I know Sgt. Allison; he was in the original Bn. B. Co. He was the only one of that name and was called Barney. He and I and two others were right over near Kim's post - as it was afterwards called - on 15th. April. He was leading 2 mules and I saw him overtaken by a party of Turks. I am quite sure it was he. If alive he must be a prisoner. He came, I think, from 1815.

Witness said several men told him they saw Allen on the day of the Anzac landing on the way down to the beach with a mule carrying a load of ammunition. Amongst those was Cpl. Stewart Christie, 49th. En. previously 9th. Neither Allen nor the mule were seen again. They both disappeared. The general impression was that Allen was killed by a shell.
