'Red Grant' we used to call him. He was a mate of mine.

He was at Cape Hellas on the 8th. of May, about 9 o'clock at night as we were advancing that Grant got hit in the stomach. I passed right over him and he asked for help but I could not stop. I am sure he was dying. I could see him afterwards, from the trenches we occupied right ahead. It was impossible to get him in then. All our dead were buried eventually, but their graves were not marked. There were too many of them.
