KENNETH
Sgt. A.I.F. 1646

I have seen the sister in charge of the ward he died in - who tells me she has already written to his mother, & have also several of the men of this unit. For Kenneth belonged to the Australian General Hospital - not the 2nd and was a Sgt. He was admitted to Hospital on Boxing day with pneumonia and gradually became worse and died on New Year's Eve about three o'clock in the afternoon.

Dear Miss Johnson,

I Regarding your letter of the 12th inst. enquiring for details of the death of 1646 Pte. A.E. Kenneth. I have seen the Sister in charge of the ward he died in - who tells me she has already written to his mother, as have also several of the men of this unit - for Kenneth belonged to the 1st Aust. Gen. Hosp. not the 2nd, & was a Sgt - he was admitted to hospital on Boxing Day with pneumonia & gradually became worse & died on New Years Eve about three o'clock in the afternoon - it is one of those cases where perhaps it would be better if those left behind do not know all the details of what led up to his illness -

Miss Riggall is expected back to-morrow. I shall be very glad to see her once more -

You'll see that we had a Zep over here a few nights ago - I can give no exciting details as I slept through it all!

Things are fairly slack here just now - & if they continue we have promised ourselves some long walks - the country round here is delightful & flowers ought to be out soon.

Sorry not to be able to send you more particulars about Sgt. Renneth - but you will be able to tell his people that the hospital has written - & they will know all before now.

Kindest regards to you & hers Yeakins

Yours very Sincerely

Elsie Smith
