ROBINSON
R.H. 17441

"Died of Wounds 1-4-18"

Robinson was wounded by a bomb at Heilly while he was stretcher bearing, getting the full issue, being badly knocked all over the body, and dying at the advanced dressing station, Boñnay. I carried him out after he was dead. He is buried in the new Cemetery at Boñnay, being the second man to be buried there.

Robinson M. H. 17441.

D/W 1st April 1918. Det D/B.

I knew him well. He belonged to the same S/B Squad. He came from West Australia was about 41, had ginger hair, and was clean shaven at the date of death though he had a moustache when he came over. He was married with three children. About the 1st April near Mericourt he was going up with another to take over from another pair. It was early in the morning and an aeroplane dropped 2 bombs. He was hit on the side., taken back to the D/Station and died there. I saw him being taken down on a stretcher. He is buried at Bonney I believe.

I did not see this man wounded, but we were up at Merricourt near Corbie at the time, and I was told a bomb got him.

I have seen the grave. It is at Eonay, in the cemetery there. I can give no particulars of Robinson beyond the above, for I knew him very slightly.

"Died of Wounds 1-4-18"

Robinson was wounded at Heilly by an aeroplane bomb, and was brought to A.D.S. Eonay, where he died. I cannot say where he was buried. I saw his body, then covered up, at the A.D.S. I am not sure of what his wounds were, but think they were in the abdomen.
