KILLED 31/10/17.

We were holding front line at Ypres at the time Mudie was killed - A shell dropped right amongst ten of them of my platoon B VI and six were killed and two wounded - all except two of the six killed were simply blown to bits and Mudie was one of them - We covered in that part of the trench and left them there and a cross was put up and I think all their names were put on: Sgt. Nicol B VI saw to this though and would know for certain - Mudie came over with the 44th Battalion and was transferred to the 11th. I knew him well being in same Company and Platoon he was quite young - about 20 and a very nice chap - Do not know his home.

No. 1 Command Depot,
