M.May 2nd. 1915.

A big, red faced Irishman, joined in New South Wales, about 21, clean shaven, red cheeks and blue eyes. Informant must have known him very well, gave number and initials quite correctly. Informant saw him with the 2nd Battalion in May 1915 in the Dardanelles. At the end of May Miles got wounded in arm, sent to hospital in Cairo and then home to England. In August 1916 1st 2nd 3rd and 4th Battalions were in trenches at Pozieres. The night before the 3rd and 4th A.I.F. went over, about a fortnight ago, informant saw J.W.Miles and had a long talk with him and he was then all right.".
