Died of illness 19.2.19.

Cnr. Charles Joseph Prumster was admitted on the 17th February and died on the 19th. He was very ill on admission and soon became delirious so of course he had to be kept extremely quiet. He did not talk as he was not in a condition to do so. Cnr. Prumster was visited by an Australian sailor "Rupert Strongman" of the H.M.A.S. "Huon" who also came to his funeral accompanied by several other Australians from the Club. The funeral was on the 25th February to the Western Necropolis, Glasgow. Lady Primrose, who takes a great interest in Australians sent a beautiful wreath.

I am sorry that I am ^{ab}unle to give any other information for although I saw him several times he was not able to do more than answer when I asked him how he was."

Dear Madam,

I beg to apologise for the long delay in replying to your letter of 9th inst.

Gunner Charles Joseph Prumster was admitted on the 17th February and died on the 19th. He was very ill on admission and soon became delirious so of course he had to be kept extremely quiet. He did not talk as he was not in a condition to do so. Gunner Prumster was visited by an Australian sailor "Rupert Strongman" of the H.M.S.
"Huon", who also came to his funeral accompanied by several other Australians from the Club. The funeral was on the 25th February to the Western Necropolis, Glasgow. Lady Primrose, who takes a great interest in Australians, sent a beautiful wreath.

I am sorry that I am unable to give any other information for although I saw him several times, he was not able to do more than answer when I asked him how he was.

I am,

Yours faithfully.

G. Holley
