39th AUSTRALIANS THORNTON, L.Cpl. H.S. 2161

D/W. Oct. 12th.1917. Dst. D/B.

He was about 23 or 24 years of age, and had sandy complexion. I saw him hit on the way up to the line at Beeches Farm, Ypres on 12th October. A shell killed half a dozen, and he was badly wounded. Somebody gave him a drink of water. I saw him on the ground. I was knocked down by the same shell, and was dazed. I did not speak to him; he was left there. We had to advance. It was very dark - about midnight. We held this ground. It was close to our front line.
