Sergeant Edward
EVERETT

This Non-Commissioned Officer's patrol work has been of exceptional value and his reports have always been found accurate in every respect.

During the last 6 months whenever this Unit has been in the line Sgt. EVERETT has been out in front almost nightly.

The coolness, tact, and ability he has always displayed have inspired confidence where most required and the men who, with him, have been carrying out this difficult and dangerous, but very necessary work, are ready to follow him anywhere.

At VILLE-SUR-ANCRE, before the operations, this N.C.O. did excellent work. He went out alone to inspect the enemy positions and the contour of NO MAN'S LAND, with a view to facilitating our advance and giving his C.O. all available information. The results of his efforts were of great value to the unit. later on during the attack.
