

11th Battalion

Captain

ERIC WILLIAM

TULLOCH

During the attack near VILLERET on the Brown Line on September 18th, 1918, this Officer was in charge of the left attacking Company, and showed great gallantry and devotion to duty.

In Company with his C.S.M. and one man, he was engaged on a flank at close range by two machine guns in a trench and immediately rushed the post and engaged the crews of the Machine Guns with revolver fire and German Stick Bombs gathered in the trench. As the result, the guns were captured, four prisoners and two wounded captured and one killed.

To this officer's brilliant dash, his courage and disregard of personal danger, must be attributed much of the success of this operation, his men being fired by his wonderful courage and dash, and his presence with them in the front wave of the attack.

(Recommended for CHIGNOLLES operations, 10/7/18, Pending.)
