13th Light Horse Regiment 4930 1st Australian Division 3rd October 1917

13th Australian Light Horse Regiment.  James O'Callaghan.

During the operations south-east of Ypres on September 20th 1917, this S.O., did fine work whilst on patrol. He proved himself a daring and capable leader and showed a total disregard for his own safety under heavy enemy shell-fire. He led his party through the barrage as far as Carlisle Farm and brought back correct dispositions of troops then uncertain. He also patrolled towards Cameron House and sent back information that the enemy were massing for an attack in that vicinity. Sgt. O'CALLAGHAN'S conduct was exemplary throughout and was marked by great coolness and confidence thus acting as a fine example to those under him.

Major-General, Commanding 1st Australian Division.
