	13th Army Brigade Aust. F.A., 112th Bty.	3387	Gunner JOSEPH R. O'G DANIELS.	On the night of the 18/19th September, 1917, between the hours of 10.30 and 11 p.m., on the MENIN ROAD about 500 yards East of YPRES near HELLFIRE CORNER Lieut. Willison was in charge of a party of ammunition wagons. At this point the column came under heavy shell fire. W. Driver Daniels immediately helped to unhook the horses showing great coolness. As soon as all were clear Lieut. Willison ordered all men to take cover and mounted his horse to go after the teams. The horse was immediately shot under him. Gunner Daniels ran along the road in the face of the heavy shelling to the assistance of Lieut. Willison who had been stunned by the fall. He succeeded in getting the officer clear of the shelling. The action of this soldier was an example to all ranks and no doubt saved many casualties that may have happened in the column.	Major E. V. RICHARDS, O.C. 112th Bty. Lt.-Col. H. E. Cohen, C.O. 8th Army Brigade Aust. F.A.	MILITARY MEDAL.
