	A.A.M.C. (Regimental Medical Officer, attached 53rd Battalion)		Captain CHARLES COSGROVE	At PETILLON in connection with the operations of 19th/20th July 1916, Captain Cosgrove showed untiring energy in attending to wounded throughout and for many hours after the actual action. He attended many wounded in our first line trenches and in other places under very hot fire. Some of the men were killed by shell fire, while actually assisting him to dress a wounded man (who was also killed by the same shell). Captain Cosgrove carried on quite regardless of personal danger and displayed praiseworthy devotion to duty.	Brig-Gen coming. 14th Inf. Bde
