	31st. Battrn.		Lieut. Gregory Stanislaus DELLIT.	During the operations of 29/30 September and 1st. October this Officer commanded a Company and exhibited a courage and conception of leadership of a very high standard. His bearing under very heavy artillery and machine gun fire set a magnificent example to the men under his command. During a serious period of the advance he, grasping the tactical situation, and with a total disregard for his personal safety led his company forward, and was instrumental in beating off an enemy counter-attack. His reports, based on personal reconnaissance, were extremely valuable, and his tactical handling of his men at critical times during the advance contributed to the success of the operation.	W.
