				The left flank being in the air he again with one man made another similar reconniassance to endeavor to get in touch with the Bn. operating on the left and after great difficulty successfully reached them and gave his Bn. position and intentions for continuing the advance and was the means of joining up both flanks. E. of MAUROY on 30th.September 1918 when his Battalion attacked the strongly held enemy positions taking a telephone he established an O.P. on high ground in full view of the enemy & under heavy M.G. fire & from this position kept Bn. H.Qrs. informed throughout of the progress of the operations and directed the fire of our Artillery and although this O.P. came under very heavy M.G. and rifle fire he continued to observe until the operation was concluded. During the early morning of 1st.October 1918 he volunteered for and accomplished alone the difficult work of guiding two Battalions of another Australian Brigade to their assembly positions in front of the position then held by his own Battalion. This was performed under very trying and difficult conditions owing to the darkness and heavy rain and extremely heavy M.G. and Artillery fire. Throughout the Autumn Campaign the other operations in which he has taken part he has performed similar work,showing at all times a total disregard for danger, great devotion to duty and setting a splendid example to all ranks.	Lieut.Colonel Commanding 32nd Battalion A.I.F. David Brig Gen	Medaille D'Honneur (Glaives Ar.)

I certify that the rank and designation as set out and referring to the abovementioned Officer is correct according to A.I.F.Lists.
