	55th Aust. Infantry Battalion.	3030	Lance Corpl George McIntyre CAMPBELL.	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during an attack on the Hindenburg Line N. of BELLICOURT on 30th Sept. 1918. During the first stages of the attack this brave N.C.O. showed an utter disregard of danger in spite of heavy M.B. fire from both flanks which was causing numerous casualties. He advanced quickly and by his determined and resolute manner so inspired his comrades in the immediate vicinity that they followed him to the final assault whereby a number of the enemy were killed and the remainder put to flight. During a strong counter attack which was launched by the enemy later, he so controlled and directed the fire that none of the enemy reached the trench in his vicinity. During the whole of the operation, by his quick decision and sound judgement and by his good leadership he contributed largely to the success of the attack.	J. B. Stewart Major, A.I.F. T/Commanding 55th Battalion.	MILITARY MEDAL.
	No., Rank and Name checked.
	This N.C.O. is not in possession of, or has not been recommended for, this decoration. No recommendation has been made in connection with New Year Honours Gazette.
