of 24/6/17)

For most conspicuous gallantry and initiative in action near PROYART on 12th August, 1918, - The platoon commanded by Serjeant STATION reached its objective, but the remainder of the Battalion was held up by heavy machine gun fire. - He skillfully engaged two machine gun posts with Lewis gun fire, enabling the remainder of his own Battalion to advance. -

The advance of the Battalion on his left had been brought to a standstill by the heavy enemy machine gun fire and the first of our assaulting detachments to reach the Machine Gun posts were put out of action in taking the first gun. -

Armed only with a revolver, in broad daylight, Sergeant SEATON at once rushed 4 enemy machine gun posts in succession, disposing of two of them, killing 5 of the enemy. The remaining two posts retired and were wiped out by Lewis gun fire. -

His act had a very inspiring effect on the troops who had been held up; they cheered him as he returned. * By this daring exploit he enabled the attacking troops to gain their objective. -

Later in the evening, under heavy machine gun fire, he went out again and brought in two badly wounded men. -

Serjeant STATION set a magnificent example of quick decision and determined gallantry. -
