	16th Battalion, A.I.F.	3970.	Private O'HEARA, Martin,	which the advance had been made and subsequently on the 11/12th, runners and carriers who had occasion to cross this area were wounded there. I saw O'Heara on many occasions on the 10/11/12th August searching the ground for wounded to whom he rendered first aid, and whom he subsequently brought in or assisted to bring in. (sgd) P. BLACK, Major. Lieut. F. WADGE states:- I saw O'Heara on a number of occasions attending to or bringing in wounded men from the area over which the Battalion had advanced and from "No Man's Land". I estimate that the number of men rescued by him is not less than 20. At times when he was carrying out this work of mercy the H.E. Shrapnel and Machine gun fire was intense beyond description. I cannot state who these men were--they were mostly members of the 15th Battalion, A.I.F., and the Suffolk Battalion,- but I am able to identify Lieut. FOGARTY of the 15th Battalion, A.I.F., to whom he rendered first aid and whom he subsequently brought into trench. This Officer had been wounded and had been lying in "No Man's Land" for about 4 hours; the enemy fire at this point was so dense that it had been impossible to make a search for wounded, but such conditions did not deter O'Heara. (sgd) FRANK WADGE, Lieut. Captain R. HARWOOD states:- On the night of the 8/9th I saw No.3970 Pte. O'Heara, M., out into "No Man's Land" where it was being severely shelled and	E.
