Gamification in Schools

Boosting wellbeing, mental health and happiness through fun, play & teamwork.

Purpose

Have you ever wondered why children and adults love video games? The short and obvious answer is, they're fun. Video games are designed to challenge and engage all age groups. Gamification is a term that, we have taken and turned into a radical new teaching model.

Join Energetic Education for a full day of gamified learning. Our presenters are world renowned educators, who are leading the way in bringing the power of gaming into the classroom. Today's workshop is designed for primary school and secondary school teachers, looking for new ways to get maximum buy-in and engagement from their students.

Attendees are guaranteed to walk away with best practice ideas for immediate use in the classroom. Those in attendance will have the opportunity to participate in a hands-on day of learning.

Workshop

The workshop is aimed for classroom teachers and specialists who teach early years right up until year 13, who are looking to build engagement and increase buy in from students in the classroom.

The workshop is split into three sections, where we take participants through some of the latest and best concepts for teaching-Gamification throughout the school.

- * Class-based board games
- * Musical workouts
- * Brain and energy breaks
- * Dice and card fitness for all subjects
- * Team building fitness games
- * Game development and cross-curricular activities
- * Plus much more

Teachers who attend will also receive one-year free access to the "Learning with Games" online teaching website valued at $79 USD.

If you have any questions about the workshop, then please feel free to email us, and we will get back to you as soon as possible.
