DID YOU KNOW ?

The world heritage listed Bungle Bungle is named after the orange and black sandstone domes located within Purnululu National Park in the Kimberley region of Western Australia. Rising 300 metres above the grass-covered plains that surround them, Bungle Bungle is one of the world's most fascinating geological landmarks.

Almost a six hour drive from the nearest town, access is only by 4WD or light aircraft.

NEWS AND VIEWS FROM AROUND

WALKING 4x4

The Elevate 4x4 concept from Hyundai debuted at the 2019 Consumer Electronics Show (CES) in Las Vegas as an "ultimate mobility vehicle". This vehicle is designed to traverse terrain that even the most capable four-wheel drive would fail, with a "walking" mode.

NAME FIGHT

The European Union recently ruled in favour of Iceland, the Nordic country, the right to use the word "Iceland". Iceland the country was sued by a UK-based supermarket chain, called Iceland Food Ltd to prevent them from using the word "Iceland" and the case was taken to court for arbitration.
