

COMMUNICATION

“Communication conveys information in both written and verbal forms, as appropriate for the needs of the target audience.”

Communication skills are listed in job advertisements across every occupation, industry and education level.