

A photograph of an Eastern yellow robin perched on a tree branch. The bird has a grey head and back, with a bright yellow breast and belly. The text 'Eastern yellow robins' is overlaid in a large, bold, black serif font.

Eastern yellow robins

Join Lana Austin of Monash University as she unpacks the bizarre genetic story of what is known (and not known) about the EYR.

7pm Thursday 31 May

Newstead Community Centre, Mechanics Hall

All welcome, free of charge

Email: lane.austin@monash.edu
<https://sites.google.com/monash.edu/eyr>

