Talk to us about the future of NCEA

Over the next few months, we aim to talk with lots of New Zealanders, from a range of backgrounds, to discuss their experiences with NCEA – the challenges, the successes and what we can do better in the future.

Come along to a workshop in your region to explore the Big Opportunities for NCEA and have your say on the future of our national secondary schooling qualification.

Ways to have your say

Complete a survey online

Lead a group discussion on ways NCEA can be strengthened and use the findings to write a group submission

Submit a detailed submission online

Leading Conversations on NCEA - workshops

Working together for the future of NCEA

The Ministry of Education along with CORE Education is undertaking a wide reaching engagement process throughout 28 May and 12 September 2018. However, we know that the rich insights and conversations are more commonly held between peers, colleagues, parents, whanau, teachers, iwi, community groups or organisations.

Supporting New Zealanders to hold, facilitate or encourage conversations is an important part of the NCEA review process.

We are inviting local volunteers to participate in a 'train the trainer' session in their region. These workshops are an opportunity to build a shared understanding of the NCEA review process, clarify how our volunteers can work with us, together and with the support materials that we have made available.

It is important to note: The Leading Conversations on NCEA workshops will be focused on the NCEA Review engagement process and how this can be supported. Workshops will not be addressing the feedback or technical requirements of NCEA as a qualification or form part of any submission process. For these discussions see the public workshop series overleaf.
