

ALL HALLOWS' SCHOOL

EST. 1861 - BRISBANE

Principal's Welcome

Welcome to All Hallows' School, a community alive with the charisma of Catherine McAuley and the traditions and culture of our 157-year history. Established in 1861, All Hallows' School is grounded in the Catholic traditions and values of the Sisters of Mercy, with Catherine McAuley as their founder. Catherine's vision lives on today as the first girls' school in Queensland and the oldest secondary school in the State.

As visionary leaders in the education of girls in Years 5 to 12, we journey into the third decade of the 21st Century developing young women who are future-ready. We believe that our girls are best prepared by engaging in a faith-based, broad liberal education that provides challenging options and flexibility. From a multi-skilled and multi-disciplinary base, we foster the growth of highly developed thinking, strong problem-solving skills and the gift of personal reflection, enabling an All Hallows' girl to become a skilled communicator in a global context.

Our House based pastoral care system ensures that every girl is personally known, supported and nurtured and our vibrant parent community provides many opportunities for parental engagement. During your daughter's time at All Hallows' School, she will experience and respond to an academically rigorous and intellectually challenging curriculum. She will be called to be the best she can be.

I am delighted that you are considering All Hallows' as the School for your daughter. In the spirit of Mercy hospitality, I invite you to learn more through our website, by visiting our School for one of our scheduled tours or by attending our Open Day held in May each year.

May God bless you,
Mrs Catherine O'Kane

Faith and Mission

As a Catholic school, the study of religion provides a vision of reality that is enriched by the interaction of both a religious and an educational perspective.

At All Hallows' School, we believe this contributes to the total development of the human person who understands and values authentic relationships, wisdom and spirituality. Our students are socially aware, taking action both within and beyond our community.

Commitment on the part of parents to the religious and faith education of their daughter is necessary for enrolment.

All students take part in religious education classes and Catholicism is studied within the wider context of religious experience in an increasingly diverse society. Faith and a social conscience enable an All Hallows' girl to step forward confidently with a deep understanding of the difference she can make in this world.

Pastoral Care and Wellbeing

The life of an All Hallows' girl is multi-dimensional and students join a community in which wellbeing, positive relationships and resilience are nurtured. We believe this provides our girls with the best possible opportunity for spiritual, academic, personal and social growth.

With a diverse and vibrant student community, our School is committed to ensuring each girl feels individually known and supported, as she develops a sense of connectedness. On entering the All Hallows' community, students join a smaller House community, which brings together students from Years 5 to 12 to participate in a range of activities including Home Group, House assemblies and events. Each House is led by a Head of House who is responsible for the overall leadership and pastoral care of the students. This connectedness establishes strong links between students, teachers and parents.

An All Hallows' girl is encouraged to be a self-leader and a supporter of every All Hallows' girl. Your daughter will feel welcomed and valued, allowing her to be the best she can be.

Academic

All Hallows' School is committed to providing authentic, student centred learning programs tailored to meet the needs of our students. The diversity of backgrounds, abilities and aspirations are embraced and nurtured. We strategically deliver individualised learning that appropriately supports, extends and challenges each learner.

Our broad range of subject offerings and diverse senior studies program caters for both academically and vocationally oriented pathways for our students. In the senior years, students have access to educational opportunities provided by universities, TAFE and other registered training providers including school-based apprenticeships, traineeships and work experience.

Our dedicated and talented staff strive to nurture, support and challenge our students through the design and delivery of a reflective and creative curriculum, empowering an All Hallows' girl to become a resilient problem solver and lifelong learner.

Co-curricular

All Hallows' School provides an extensive and diverse range of social justice, sporting and cultural co-curricular activities. We believe this contributes to the total development of an All Hallows' girl.

Our students are socially aware, taking action beyond our community through our Mercy Action program that offers a wide variety of outreach experiences.

All students participate in sporting activities as part of their academic program and many represent the School in Interschool teams. All Hallows' School has an inclusive approach to participation and offers as many teams or groups in most sports as required by student interest. Sports are played on a competitive or social basis and cater for players from beginner to elite athlete level.

Our Cultural Program is a diverse program offering a wide range of opportunities. From instrumental music, dance, voice, speech and drama lessons, to ensembles, choirs and bands, we cater for all ability levels. Debating and public speaking are highly valued activities, with many students taking part in Interschool, State and National Competitions. Our well-established and extensive performing arts program provides both private tuition and group participation opportunities across numerous co-curricular music, drama and dance activities.

Community

All Hallows' School values the significant partnership between our students — past, present and future — our staff and our parents which forms the basis of our community.

We encourage parent involvement through many opportunities including membership of our Parents and Friends Association, Mothers' Network and Parent Support Groups which actively support and encourage our students to reach their potential. Our many parent groups work together to create memorable community events that are widely supported and where lifelong friendships are forged.

We invite all in our community to attend our weekly School Liturgy as well as numerous other events held during the year, including our House breakfasts and Masses, Inaugural Mass, Grandparents Day, Open Day, sports carnivals and Performing Arts events.

Our community continually strives to meet the challenge of Catherine McAuley's vision for the education of young women. Together, we make a difference in the lives of our community and those we support.

School Fees

All Hallows' School has a very special ethos and culture based on our Mercy values which has evolved over our 157-year history through the conscious efforts of our Founding Sisters, the Sisters who followed them and our staff, parents and students. Our Mercy values, ethos and culture are part of a legacy we strive to protect and nurture.

In keeping with our Mercy traditions, we have maintained our practice of setting fees at a modest and accessible level for families. The School, together with the School's Board, work diligently to minimise fee increases. School Fees are reviewed each year by the School's Board in consultation with our Finance Committee, Principal and Business Manager.

School Fees are charged each term for each student. If there are two or more students of one family attending the School concurrently, a sibling discount applies. Two siblings attending at the same time - 10% for the second student. Three siblings attending at the same time - 10% for the second student and 20% for the third student. Four siblings attending at the same time - 10% for the second student, 20% for the third student and 50% for the fourth student.

There may be additional charges made for the year if a student chooses to study subjects such as Art, Home Economics or Fashion.

Private lessons are available in Music, Voice and Speech & Drama. These are charged in addition to the School Fees each term.

Participation in some of the extra-curricular activities also attracts a fee. These fees vary depending upon the activity, with registration and payment completed per activity via the Schools electronic payment system.

The School operates a Textbook Hire Scheme which provides all textbooks required by students. The State Government Textbook allowance for parents is paid directly to the School.

Further information on School Fees for international students is available on the School's website and on the Commonwealth Register of Institutions and Courses for Overseas Students (CRICOS) website under CRICOS Provider Code 03295M.

	School Fees - 2018
