Dear Marist Family,

Not 'tour guides' through the wilderness

I became increasingly nervous last weekend watching, and feeling, temperatures drop, while I was preparing to join our boys on the Year 10 Trek for a 'sleep out'! Our beautiful autumn weather had finally surrendered to the calls of winter and I frantically searched for extra layers of clothing. The pristine and amazingly rugged Byadbo Wilderness area in the Kosciusko National Park awaited me with a promise of a canoe trip down the Snowy River and a walk along Slaughterhouse track to a secluded camp site; all very inviting but why? Of course we want our boys to move out of their comfort zone. We want them to experience the beauty of the outdoors, participate in safe, but risk taking experiences and 'rough it' a little. However, if this is the limit of the experience, I would suggest that very little learning has taken place other than feeling a bit uncomfortable and missing home cooking!

We live in a world where technology has provided access to the answer with the touch of a keystroke. Young people are reliant on instant results, often struggling with situations requiring a more complex and challenging approach. The Year 10 Trek is not designed to simply take boys on a trip, show them the easy path, while blindly leading them around the bush and calling it a hike. From an educational perspective, such an approach doesn't make sense as there is limited learning opportunities when we 'tour guide' them through the wilderness. The Trek is their experience and they are in charge. Our trained guides only intervene if a safety issue arises, otherwise decisions are in their hands. Boys are briefed on directions, leadership and group management are shared while a map and compass become their guide. When they break camp, rest, eat and in what direction they take are decisions made without the intervention of adults! The boys struggle initially, constantly asking questions for reassurance but slowly and confidently they take control. We live in a world shifting value from simple knowledge and retention, to placing greater value on high level skills, problem-solving and collaboration. Our outdoor education program is designed to slowly inculcate our boys with a sense of responsibility for the group, independence in decision making, and reinforcing a respect for the natural beauty of the Australian bush.

Rejoice and be glad

I have always found the image of 'holiness' somewhat difficult to grasp. It brings with it a sense of spiritual superiority, possibly as a result of childhood memories of holy cards portraying images of saints surrounded by angels. Pope Francis, in a new apostolic exhortation, makes a radical call to redefine holiness in today's world. The publication, Gaudete et Exsultate (Rejoice and be glad), suggests the path to holiness consists of daily acts of charity, joy and a sense of humour. Francis explains 'I like to contemplate the holiness in the patience of God's people: in those parents who raise their children with immense love, in men and women who work hard to support their families, in the sick, in elderly Religious who never lose their smile.' Francis reminds us that holiness is not remote from everyday life, rather it is the very stuff daily life is made of. Anyone can be a saint. Francis also suggests holiness needs times of quiet, solitude and silence but 'it is not healthy to love silence while fleeing interaction with others.'

Gaudete et Exsultate is a hopeful publication, acknowledging holiness does not imply never making a mistake or striving for moral perfection. Rather, holiness is about living in humble awareness of the presence of God in our lives. As a Catholic school in the Marist tradition, it is our hope that we are successful in placing the religious journey at the centre of the boys in our care. We want them to be open to the presence of God in the everyday, to live consciously in the presence of God. We hope Marist College Canberra is a place of encounter with God – in the classroom, on the sporting field, on stage or walking up mountains in the wilderness.

May St Marcellin continue to watch over our boys and their families.

Yours sincerely

Senior students should be commencing their study for the exams now.

SHELL QUESTACON SCIENCE CIRCUS VISITS THE COLLEGE

The Shell Questacon Science Circus last week visited the College. This is a major outreach program from Questacon – The National Science and Technology Centre in Canberra. A Science Circus experience is designed to stimulate and challenge its audience with an exploration of science and technology. ANU Science graduates studying their Master of Science Communication Outreach delivered a lively presentation to our Year 7 Science students.

The focus areas of the performance were air pressure and the particle model, and the boys were able to relate this content to their recent studies in Science classes. The enthusiastic audience participation and buzz of excitement in the room were an indication of how much the boys enjoyed this enrichment experience.

YEAR 12 DRAMA LEARN ABOUT TRAGEDY

On Thursday 12 April, the Year 12 Drama class travelled to the Canberra Theatre to watch A Town Named War Boy. This excursion was used as an extension to our Tragedy unit that we had been exploring in class. It also provided the boys with a more in-depth understanding of tragedy and the techniques that are accompanied with it.

A Town Named War Boy focuses on the real diary entries of Australian soldiers throughout World War 1. The story follows four young Australian men sent to Gallipoli. The main character Simon (more affectionately known as Snow) recalls the good times spent with his mates on the boat, as well as the horrors experienced on the battlefield. Snow also gives the audience an insight into life after war as he acts out hallucinations and extreme sadness.

This play was extremely easy to watch, and was directed in a very attractive and sophisticated way. The director explored this story in a very tasteful manner, as the use of violence and weaponry were excluded, with the main focus being on the soldiers and their own personal stories. The portrayal of the four characters in particular was also done successfully as the audience was able to gain a relationship with each of them, and understand how they were affected by the tragedy of war.

Overall, the Year 12 boys enjoyed this performance and it was fascinating to see the different ways in which a performance can be presented. We thank Ms Weijers for organising this excursion.

WHAT WOULD BE YOUR SPECIAL SUPERPOWER?

HOW WOULD YOU USE IT TO MAKE THE WORLD A BETTER PLACE?

This was the question that was asked in English this past fortnight. Luca said his superpower would be to be a plastic magnet and clean all the plastic out of the oceans. Karim said his would be to make the world a peaceful place. Nick would like to be able to build things really quickly so he could make shelters for all the homeless, while Will would like super hearing. Then if someone screamed because they were in danger, he would be able to rescue them before catastrophe struck.

This semester the English Department has begun a Regular Writing creative writing program for all students in Years 7 to 12. Much of the current writing in school is focussed on assessment and class texts, with little opportunity for students to let their imaginations off the leash. Each fortnight, all students will respond to the same prompt, writing approximately 200 words. They will then swap with a neighbour who will read, edit and ask some further questions about the writing. The boys will conference with each other, discussing their writing, answering questions and perhaps share with the class.

While Regular Writing is about the imagination, it is also about the technical skills of writing. We are all familiar with the old saying, "Practise makes perfect". By writing frequently in a number of creative contexts, the English teachers hope that boys develop their understanding and application of a range of skills. By sharing their work, boys will see how others express themselves and identify strengths and weaknesses in their own and other's writing.

Most of all, however, we hope that the boys will enjoy the opportunity to release those images lurking in the depths of the right side of the brain.

Maybe it's a dinner table discussion: What would your superpower be and how would you use it to make a better world?

REQUEST FOR UNWANTED AND WORKING LAPTOPS AND DEVICES

On Friday 6 July, a group of Year 11 boys along with Grant Barclay and Sarah Mahar will be participating in an Immersion to Cambodia for two weeks. During this time, the group will be visiting and working with the Lavalla School in Phnom Penh. The School is a disadvantaged Marist school that our College works to support.

The Brothers from Lavalla have asked if the group could supply any unwanted computers or devices as the accessibility of computers is currently limited.

If you have any unwanted laptop computers or devices that are still operational and would like to donate them to the Lavalla School in Cambodia, they would be greatly appreciated.

All donated devices can be taken to Grant Barclay's office in Crispin House. Thank you.

JUNIOR SCHOOL

FROM THE HEAD OF JUNIOR SCHOOL

Dear Parents and Carers

My grateful thanks to our teachers who accompanied the boys on Year 6 camp last week. Some last minute changes necessitated Mr Keogh, Mr Henry and Mrs Bell assisting Mrs Thompson, Mr Donovan, Mrs Dickson and the group. From all reports, it was a great experience and an enjoyable time with the boys. The staff commitment and the boys' behaviour were, as always, very positively commented on. Thank you all.

This week is NAPLAN testing in Years 5, 7 and 9 across the College. Marist is one of the schools that is undergoing testing online and at the time of writing, all had started well with the new format. Whether we like it or not, the testing agenda is providing us with a snapshot of data about your son's strengths and weaknesses. Teachers are able to use these results along with the data they collect and the professional observations they make to provide a rich picture of your son's progress through the College. Please keep your boys well fed and well rested so that they will do well. Approaching any assessment with a positive mindset is known to make a huge difference and we wish all boys well.

The enrolment period continues. Applications for 2019 are strong. Should you know a family that are considering a Marist education for their son I urge you to remind them to get an application in for next year. We are accepting applications for all Junior School year levels at the current time. As I spoke to the visitors on Open Day, I firmly believe that starting a boy in the Junior School has many proven benefits.

We offer a point of difference being now one of two boys' only primary schools in Canberra. Please allow me to highlight some benefits:

- Competition. Boy's only classrooms allow boys to be 'themselves'. They do not have to compete with girls to answer questions, do jobs or ask for help. Boys compete differently with other boys.
- Structure. Boys education allows for boys to learn in teacher directed classrooms with clear boundaries, rules and consequences. Teachers of boys allow for activity, for movement and for time to re-set prior to beginning another task.

- Opportunity. The College offers more than 70 co-curricular activities. Interest clubs, sporting teams and service opportunities allow boys to find their 'spark' and develop an interest in things they are captivated by.
- Belonging. Boys need their 'pack'. They need to feel that they belong to a place and within a group. Connection with Marist College Canberra is renowned for being strong. The Old Boy network is highly regarded in Canberra who speak passionately about their school and their mates.
- Transition. We know that boys who begin prior to Year 7 settle well into the College. They know and are aware of rules and expectations. They are familiar with routines and have established a good group of friends and acquaintances before they begin High School. This is vital as boys work to cope with the changes that High School brings.

Should you or your friends have any questions or clarifications, or should they wish another look around the Junior School, please do not hesitate to contact me personally.

I look forward to speaking with many of you, as interviews get underway in the coming days.

I leave you in the hearts of Jesus and Mary.

Emonn Moore

ENRICHMENT DAY

The Junior School Enrichment Day will be held this term on Tuesday 26 June. The format is different this year: there will be three sessions during the day, one for each year group.

Sixty students from each year level will be given an opportunity to participate. The students will be chosen in consultation with the class teachers.

The focus for the day will be 'Engineering: building structures', organised in small groups with planning and presentation segments. What amazing and original designs will we uncover?

MEET SOME OF THE ADDAMS FAMILY!

This week we would like to introduce two of the principal actors in the cast for the upcoming musical production of The Addams Family.

These two actors, along with a dynamic cast and fantastic orchestra and crew, will thrill and entertain audiences from Thursday 31 May to Saturday 2 June 2018.

Come along and support the cast from a range of Canberra schools including our very own Marist students, as well as those from Merici College, St Clare's College and Canberra Girls Grammar School.

Dates and Times

Between Thursday 31 May 2018 and Saturday 2 June 2018. Each performance starts at 7.00pm.

Venue

Senior School Hall, Marr Street, Pearce

Joseph Konings – Uncle Fester

Joseph Konings, Year 12, plays Uncle Fester. In 2017, Joseph played Sonnerie in Red Noses. He has played Doctor Doolittle (Imagine Theatre, 2008), Dan in Ned Kelly (ActUp production with Canberra Academy of Dramatic Art), and has also performed in the Fast and Fresh Festival (Courtyard Theatre, 2014 and 2015).

Joseph has been acting since childhood and is enjoying the challenge of musical theatre. He loves comedy and making people laugh; whether at him or with him. Joseph says, 'It is just fun!' He would like to bring a loyal charm and naivety to his portrayal of Uncle Fester in the upcoming Marist production.

Joseph would encourage anyone who is interested in being part of a College production to give it a go.

Click here to purchase tickets. Tickets can also be purchased from the Senior School Hall, up to 45 minutes prior to each performance.

Steph Maclaine – Wednesday

Steph is in Year 12 at Canberra Girls' Grammar School (CGGS). She is planning on taking a gap year in 2019 and later hopes to be successful in entering the Victorian College of Arts, the National Institute of Dramatic Arts or to continue in the performing arts world.

She has been very active in local productions. Her notable roles including Little Red Riding Hood in Into the Woods (Music for Everyone), Miss Hannigan in Annie (CGGS 2017) for which she won the Canberra Area Theatre award for Best Actress in a Feature Role in a School Production. She also played Cosette in Les Miserables in 2017 (Free Rain Theatre).

Steph wants to bring something 'extra' to her role rather than emphasise Wednesday as a bland character. She has loved the time spent with the cast and has formed great friendships beyond the rehearsals.

RICHARD AND ROMA FLYNN MUSIC BURSARY - APPLICATIONS CLOSE FRIDAY 8 JUNE 2018

The Richard and Roma Flynn Bursary originated in 1997. Both Richard and Roma had a long association with Marist education, a talent and love of music, and a strong interest in providing educational opportunities for youth.

In 2018, the College is offering a number of bursaries to assist students in Years 10 to 12 with their musical performance studies on their choice of instrument or voice.

The criteria on which the bursaries are granted include:

- a strong commitment to College life
- a strong commitment to formal musical studies and the musical life within the College, and
- a deep interest in music, commensurate with the student's musical ability.

The duration of the Bursary is one calendar year. The Flynn Bursary provides the recipient with a remission of a portion of school fees, musical tuition and music books for the school year.

Students wishing to apply for a Flynn Bursary must submit an application form providing details of their musical interests and studies. Application forms should preferably be typed. Click here to access the application form.

The completed application form should be forwarded to:

Mr Matthew Hutchison, Headmaster, by the close of school on Friday 8 June 2018.

Please endorse the envelope with "Flynn Bursary" and the student's name.

CRISPIN HOUSE – 2018 SO FAR

Term One in Crispin House has been exciting and an incredibly promising start for 2018. We would like to formally introduce and welcome the 27 new Year 7s into our community, in addition to three new Crispin members in other years, and Mr Miller; Crispin 7's new House Group Leader.

The Swimming Carnival was the first major event of the year. Whilst the result was disappointing, we are immensely proud of the boys who put their all in and tried their hardest. Similar to other houses, Crispin encourages boys to continually improve their participation and house spirit which has directly translated into remarkable success for the House. This showed in Crispin House's second place finishing in the Athletics Carnival which the whole House should be very proud of.

The Crispin House Council is a long-standing initiative within Crispin and has been reinstated for 2018 with the intention to improve Crispin's atmosphere and community. The two projects the Council is currently working towards are:

the addition of artwork made by Crispin boys to be displayed in the House corridor, as well as the new addition of a miniature Crispin House mascot who will accompany any travelling Crispin students abroad.

Most recently, Crispin held the annual House Auction which was hugely successful and a fantastic opportunity for the whole House to get involved and excited. A sincere thanks to those boys and families who donated items that were able to be auctioned off. It was very much appreciated, and the Auction would be largely unsuccessful without your generosity. In conclusion, Crispin House has had an excellent first term, and there is an encouraging prospect for success and growth for the House and the Crispin community for the remainder of the year and into the future.
