PATRONS OF TERRACE

"In an age when those associated with Catholic Education, under the impact of social changes reflecting adversely upon the school population, under stress from overwork, lack of success and appreciation, and the constant struggle with financial difficulties tend to drift into a more or less grave futilitarianism, it is a great encouragement that Your Grace sees it worthwhile to be present at our Speech Night this evening."

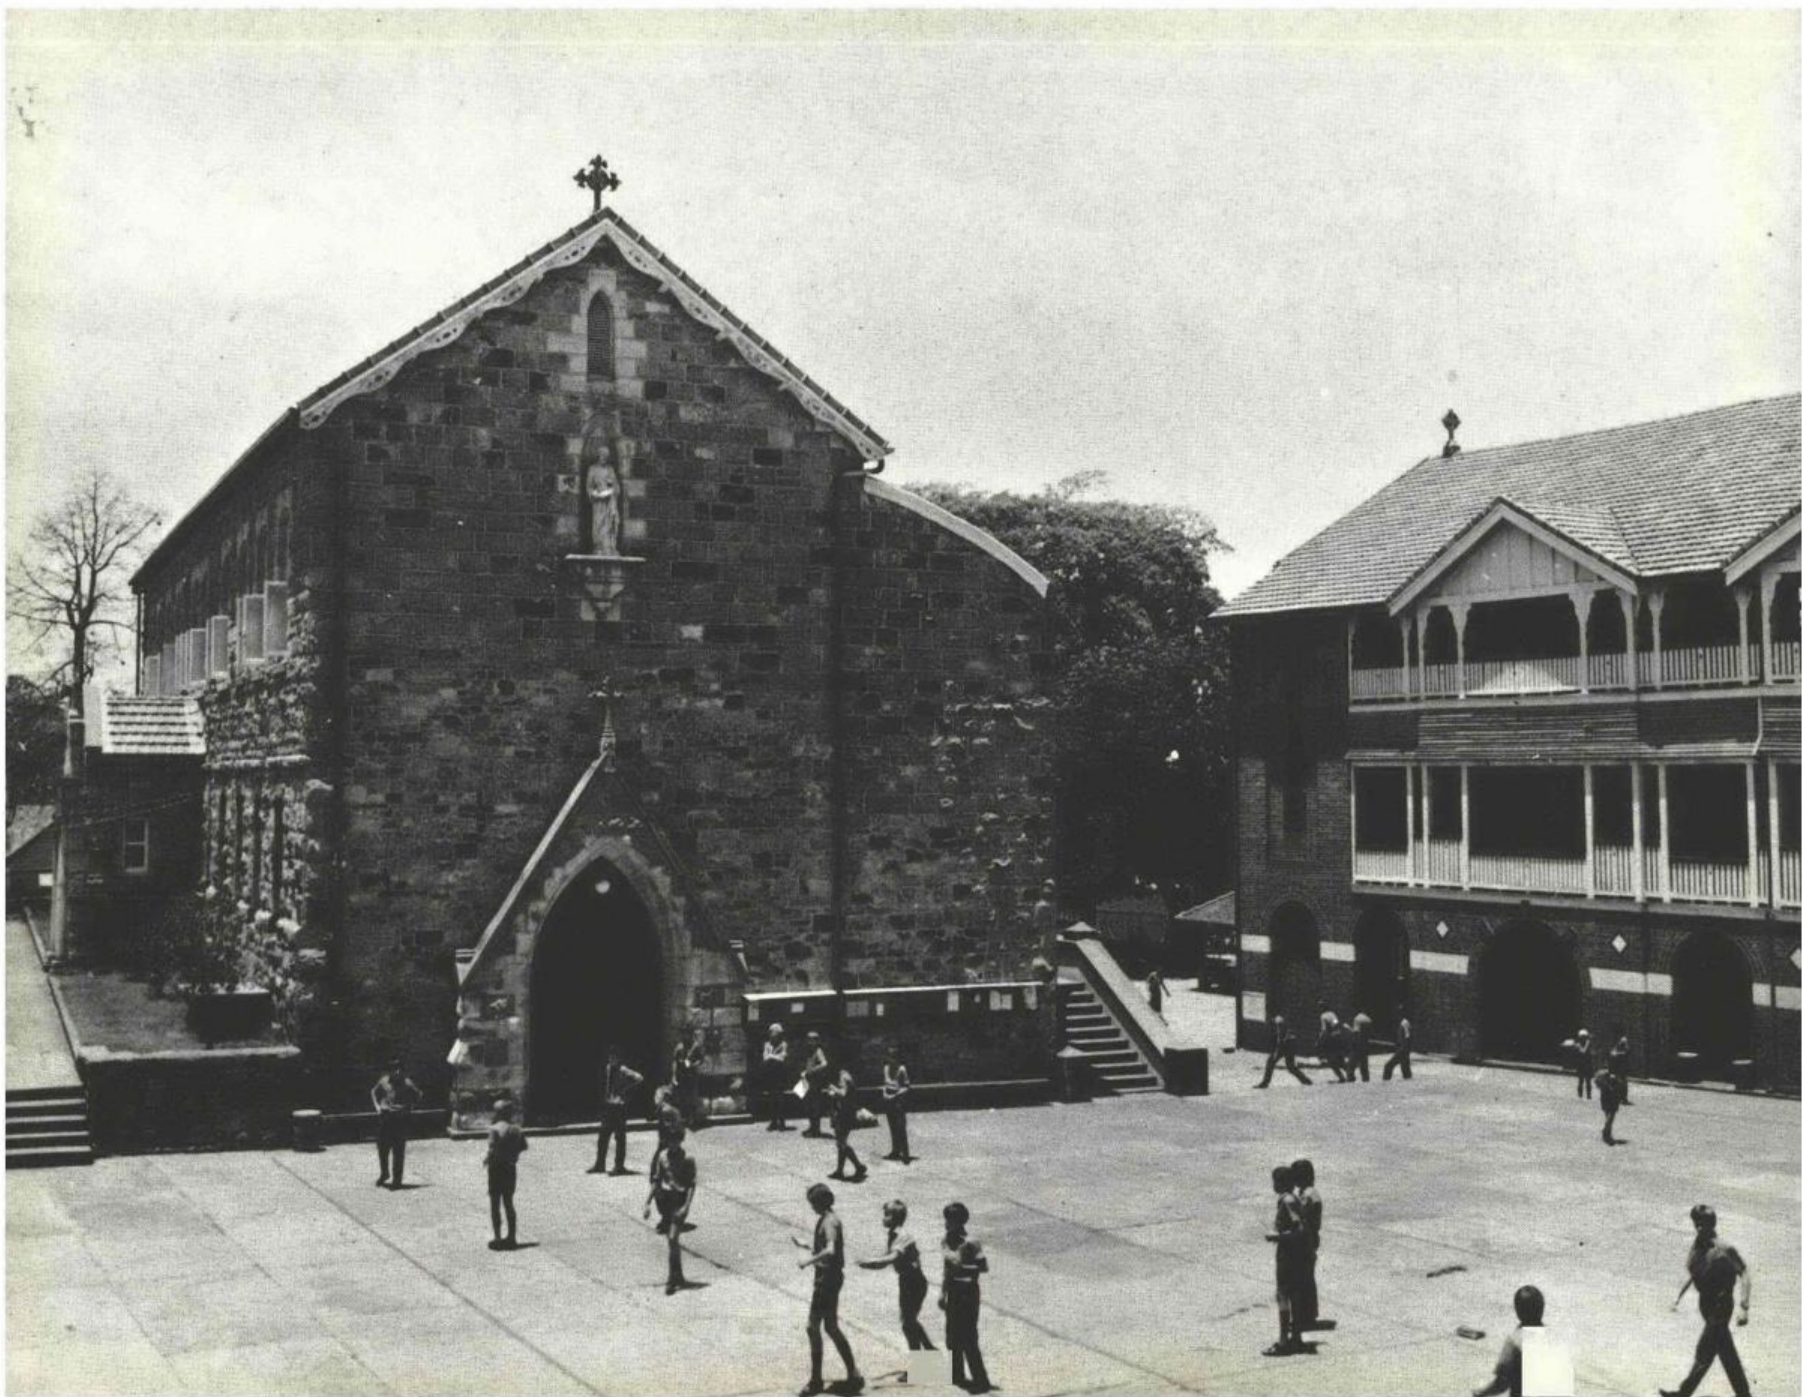

BROTHER CAMPBELL'S JUBILEE

God's will has raised you to the highest station,
With every grace and blemish in full view;
And you who wish no fulsome adulation
May still feel glad that we are proud of you.
Your quality of service in God's cause
Will rank you with our dearly honoured dead;
So now we add our meed to the applause
That marks this span of life so nobly led.
Your name is held in honour in our State,
With your prestige the Brothers' fame has grown;
You walk a worthy peer among the great,
You spend your pleasant hours with your own.
We know the gift you prize beyond all others—
To serve your God among the Christian Brothers.

Brother J. S. Campbell O.B.E., B.A., F.A.C.E. has now celebrated the Golden Jubilee of his life as a Christian Brother. Twenty-Two of those years were spent at Terrace, the last six (1959-1965) as Headmaster. Br. Campbell was a member of the recent Radford Committee on Secondary Education in Qld. and is the Provincial of the Christian Brothers in Queensland.

THE ANNUAL REPORT 1971

My Lord Bishop, Members of the Official Party, Very Rev. Fathers, Members of Staff, Ladies and Gentlemen and Students of Gregory Terrace.

RELIGIOUS FORMATION

We have not evolved an ideal, or perhaps even a satisfactory programme for the religious instruction of modern youth. Perhaps, in spite of many encouraging activities in the school, our boys are not prepared to serve their faith with the same enthusiasm they display for altruistic causes. Of course the spirit of Christ permeates much of this altruism, and I am pleased to be able to record in the boys a growing response whenever human misery calls upon their charity.

But I do feel some measure of concern about the decline in the spirit of piety amongst Catholic Youth, which applies to Terrace as well as all other schools. It is partly a by-product of changes in society, but one would expect a religious education might have served as an effective anti-dote against an environment becoming increasingly agnostic in philosophy and hedonistic in conduct. However I am not convinced that a decline in piety, regrettable though it is, means a decline in the religious spirit of youth. We may have been somewhat simplistic in the past in trying to assess the religious spirit by the externals of piety.

The boys have the services of an enthusiastic band of priests who are delighted to be of assistance whenever needed. Our Chaplain, Fr. R. Wilson, and Fr. White are untiring in their duties, and we have had inspiring visits from Bishop Kennedy and several from Dr. O. K. Oxenham whose inimitable mixture of idealism and sound common sense appeals to the boys.

LIBRARIES

Modern educational trends place a heightened importance upon the part the pupil's own efforts play in their educational development.

The Seniors have at their disposal a library, limited in accommodation now but quite well-stocked with books. Mr. Edmonds, the Librarian is very generous in placing his free time at the disposal of the boys. The Junior Library has been an important factor in our teaching in the Middle School & Junior School areas for several years owing to the skill and enthusiasm of Mrs. Olsen and her associates among the Terrace mothers. Next year the Junior Library will be transferred from its present cramped quarters to more suitable accommodation.

RADFORD SCHEME

The Radford Scheme is in operation this year in Junior, in 1972 it will apply to the Sub-Seniors, 1973 to the Senior candidates. Recently the Parents' & Friends' Association sponsored a lecture by an expert on the Radford Scheme. The evening was deserving of greater support than it received. Further meetings will shortly be called to explain how we intend to implement the scheme at Terrace. As was inevitable the Radford Scheme has received some criticism from teachers and administrators. While it is somewhat demanding on teachers, the system of seminars does lend itself to a new dimension in Queensland education which has been rather too obviously orientated to the University, and too academic in content. It should be possible to give students a more liberal education, to open to them their rich cultural heritage, and so develop in them a fuller and more varied response to life.

We have already made some efforts in this direction by the introduction this year of musical appreciation lessons and by encouraging drama groups on a class and college basis. It is satisfying to find groups composing and acting plays and studies, and practising other forms of self-expression. Our school drama group under the direction of Mr. P. Thomas, gained third place in the Jean Trundell Memorial Schools' Competition gaining an award of $75 to be used to add books to the library. For a fledgling group this is highly commendable.

Our examination results last year were the most satisfactory for some years. We were pleased with the percentage of Matriculants which was well above the State level. Results in

ST. JOSEPH'S COLLEGE
SENIOR SCHOOL

Junior were, as usual, very good. There is every indication that fine work is being done in all sections of the school, especially the Junior School.

Clearly not all boys are proceeding in schoolwork as parents and teachers might wish. Some lack ability to keep up with the class, some lack incentive, some few are mal-adjusted and because of emotional difficulties are clearly under-performing. Help is available to those who need special assistance from our Remedial Teacher, Miss Ann McCallum, and from the Counselling service of Br. Purcell.

CADET UNITS

Boys are naturally gregarious, seeking the security and the approbation of the group, testifying to common ideals in a common manner. We talk together in demonstrations, sit together in protests, fast together to dramatize our cause. The Cadet Movement should provide our boys with a pattern in which to express their patriotism, their love of Australia, rich and fair and free, and with a means of expressing their dedicated service to her. Unfortunately if patriotism and this common sense of service are not present, then the activities of Cadet day may take on the quality of burlesque, or the mindless performance of automats. On the other hand a cadet unit functioning well is of considerable educative value.

We did not hold our Passing-Out Parade on a Sunday because of the number of boys, who missing camp, were backward in their training. Some parents by furnishing their sons with flimsy excuses to absent themselves from parades are defeating the aims of the Cadets.

SPORT

Sport is also a valuable activity in the formation of character. I know the no-transfer-of-training psychologists deny this, but they do grant that sport gives ample opportunity for the exercise of sportsmanship. For me this is sufficient in itself. The acquisition of skills and the achievement of successes are subordinate to this purpose. But nevertheless some measure of success is desirable and rewarding. Our swimming, football, and tennis teams and cricket teams met with a reasonable measure of success; our rowers had their best day for some years, and had the First Eight not tried conclusions with that fatal buoy we could easily have claimed that we had had a good day. I was delighted with the spirit of enthusiasm and optimism among the athletics. They had not had a very successful day, but almost all performed above their ordinary level, and they continued their, I hope, relentless climb from the cellar to the attic.

One claim I make for Terrace sporting competitors. Many schools in the Commonwealth produce boys more skilful at sport, but I doubt whether any produce better sportsmen.

PARENTS' & FRIENDS' ASSOCIATION

It is important that teacher-pupil-parent relationship be close so that incipient difficulties may be talked over and perhaps solved. I was rather proud that certain parents, when a problem, major or trifling, arose in school, came to me somewhat hesitantly perhaps but encouraged by remembering that in last year's Report I had announced that if a problem arose concerning their son's education, they should consult me and I had promised to render whatever assistance I could. As I have usually found parents level-headed in their judgments about even their own children I cannot recall an occasion when I seriously disagreed with something they proposed.

Our Parents' & Friends' Association was inaugurated with great éclat at a meeting at the College in the Second Term. An excellent Committee, with Mr. Jerry Gallagher as President, was appointed to draw up a Constitution, submit it to a Special General Meeting, and generally conduct the affairs of the Association until the Annual General Meeting early next year. I must say the Committee is all that I had hoped for. It contains men, alert, businesslike, dedicated, and with a genuine belief in the future of the school.

I hope parents will support their Committee. Quite frankly I was delighted with the Inaugural Meeting, but somewhat disappointed by the numbers who attended the Special Annual Meeting, and also the social function for the fathers.

We outlined to parents at the Inaugural Meeting plans for the future of Terrace. I am very pleased with the response of the parents to the Voluntary Donation to the Building Fund suggested at this meeting. It seems that the financial policy of the Parents' & Friends' Association will be successful. But the aims of the Association are far wider than financial. It is hoped to promote better social relationships among all parents, who after all have this common bond; and it is hoped to develop dialogue about the school, its aims, methods, achievements, shortcomings and in fact every aspect of its work.

Terrace has many very noble supporters and benefactors. Some families increased the suggested donation to the Building Fund, some have been consistently generous with donations over the years, many have given generously of their time and their labour. The claims that a school like Terrace make upon parents are manifold and various. I have come to expect, but not take for granted, that anything done by our parents, usually, of course, by the mothers, will be done generously, even lavishly and with elegance and good taste.

STAFF

I should like to express my appreciation of the work of members of Staff who displayed professional competency in their duties, and a desire to devote their abilities and a generous amount of their spare time to the extra-curricular activities of your sons.

YOUTH TODAY

Reports by their very nature may seem trite accounts of brick and mortar, examination, functions, successes, excuses and what-not; and seldom do they catch the soul of a school, that vital, pulsating spirit that accompanies youth and seems so tangible when young men are massed together in common purpose as in a school situation. This last section of my Report will be a tribute to your sons. I can assure you that in spite of some evident signs of imperfections in the materials and the craftsmanship, the picture of Terrace is generally pleasing. I have found the 1971 boys more co-operative, more reasonable, more prepared to see other points of view than their own, then Terrace boys of my other years. Our activities were invariably conducted in a pleasant atmosphere of trust, respect, and friendship between teacher and pupil.

I have no desire to romanticize youth, nor by temperament could I belong to those who in a spirit of bewilderment condemn what they find is difficult or impossible to understand. There are many imperfections in youth to-day; and there have been flaws in every generation of the sons of men. But boys to-day have many virtues to a degree not present in other generations. The conformity so sought after in schools in former years, and which I am old enough still to value, is not necessarily the ideal. Still it is as immature to revolt against all conformity, and despise the past because it is the past, as it is to condemn the present because it deviates from the past. There is so much that is sound and wholesome and valuable in our heritage that is well worth preserving.

I feel that our young men still at school are more serious-minded, more idealistic, more mature and in general more promising that most other generations. They have their own special problems that they will solve at least as well as other generations solved theirs.

I should like to read you a few lines of poetry which says succinctly what I am suggesting:

I thank the Lord for blessings that are mine;
That my young son grows tall and straight and fine,

And eats the bounty on my table spread
With thoughts for those who lack their daily bread,

Who looks on anguish with a softened eye
And not, in proud disdain, just passes by;
Who in the fierce commitment of his youth
Will follow the elusive gleam of truth
Not circumscribed by my tormenting fears
Nor lagging from the burden of the years.
Emerging manhood seeks out other paths,
And skelters in his search by other hearths;
Why should my troubled spirit turn to stone
To see him venture on his way alone?

I who acclaimed the first proud steps he made
A baby, tottering, without my aid
Can I not lift my too protecting arm
And see him stride a man without alarm.
Dear God your patient confidence I need,
Who knows our troubled world and lets it breed.

As I understand it the theme of the poem is not a plea for emancipation from parental affection and interest, and in important matters control, but a warning against that fussy over-anxious nervous concern which alienates, whether it be a cloying or a hectoring over-protectiveness.

If you can retain your confidence, your cheerfulness of disposition, your affection, your understanding in spite of the heightened tensions of modern life you will be better fitted to be guide, philosopher and friend to your sons.

FAREWELL

And now at the end of my appointed term as Headmaster of Terrace I conclude my Report with the words of Brutus to his friends before the Battle of Philippi:

"If we do meet again, why, we shall smile,
If not, why then, this parting is well made."
May God guard you and yours forever.

J. H. LYNCH,
B.A. Dip Ed. M.A.C.E.

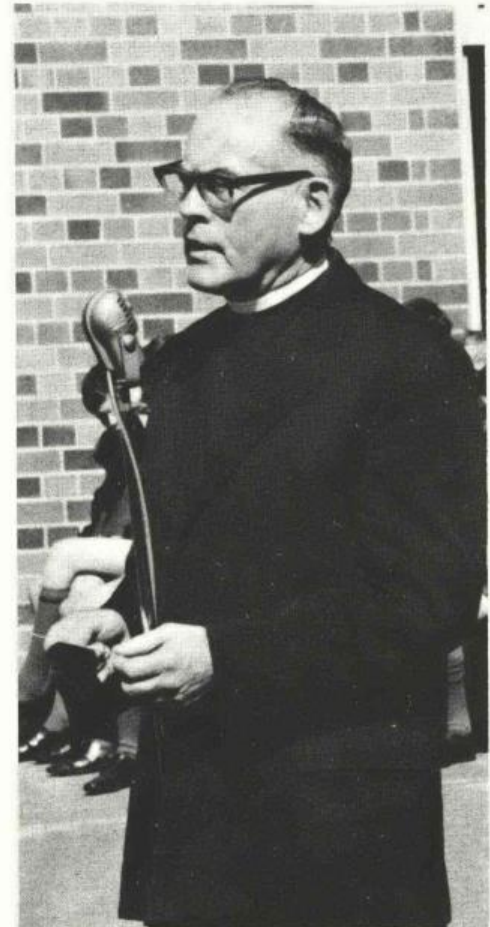

BROTHER J. H. LYNCH

Although it takes time for a Headmaster's particular influence to be felt in his school, there is no doubt at the end of Br. Lynch's term that Terracians of his period had been given the chance to grow through their difficult adolescent years with their sights inclined towards real values.

His persistent firmness earned the respect of the whole school population and was keenly appreciated by the fair-minded, by those who could look beyond the immediate gratification of a whim. He kept before the boys the highest ideals of personal conduct and the ethics that they should display towards others as fellow Christians and students at a Great Public School. He showed that his concern was ever for their own welfare and the wellbeing of their associations in the larger school family.

To his Staff he presented the face of deep integrity. His trust in them was complete. Keen on results and outward success himself he was, nevertheless, tolerant of its lack in others, being able to appreciate readily the value of effort. Perhaps Br. Lynch's outstanding contribution was in the sphere of orderliness by which he provided the opportunity for others to exercise their particular talents and for others to influence in all the subtle and unobtrusive ways that make for the final product that is the spirit of a school year.

The family that is Terrace realises that the contribution made by its latest Headmaster ranks with the most significant of the past. Its gratitude will be expressed in the searching Christian that he helped to fashion.

FORMER STAFF

It was a sad day for Terrace junior school students when they returned after the vacation to discover that they had lost the services of two devoted members of the Junior school staff.

Bro. T. S. Mills after two years at Terrace was transferred to the staff of Christian Brothers Shorncliffe, and Bro. P. Harney has joined the staff of Nudgee Junior College at Indooroopilly.

Bro. Mills endeared himself to all who came to know him because of his great interest in all things that concern the small boy. He had charge of the swimming pool and assisted greatly in Terrace's success at the G.P.S. last year.

He was equally keen on training footballers and stimulating his scholars in the classroom. His happy disposition and versatile ways will be greatly missed at Terrace. Bro. Harney too showed great keenness in all that a boy does at Terrace. He trained the lifesavers to success in 1970 and his skill in school teaching has earned for him a reputation that precedes him to the practising school for the Christian Brothers Training College—Xavier College newly established at Indooroopilly. Terrace wishes them both every success. Other departures include: Mr. K. Boulton who has taken up Law; Miss J. Perry who has married and taken another appointment as a teacher; Mr. John Kennedy's very special quality in the classroom and in many extra activities was appreciated by every boy fortunate enough to come under his influence. As an Old Boy of the School he repaid it best by his selfless efforts particularly in the singing and drama activities, at various sports, with the Christmas Creek camps and in the Cadet Corps. He has transferred to the Too-woomba Grammar School.

Another Old Boy, Mr. Robert Maidens, has resigned to try for overseas experience. His sixth Grade was always a buzz of interested activity. His tennis prowess enabled him to assist many boys in this popular sport as well as to develop strong G.P.S. teams. We wish him a successful tour.

Mr. Col. O'Brien, Physical Education teacher has left to take up full time University studies via the special Rugby League squad of which he is physical trainer. He set this new branch of learning effort on a firm basis as his old school. Many boys are indebted to him for improved interest in their physical welfare.

Mr. Colle was able to give local colour to the teaching of his native tongue in three classes per day in the lower Secondary. We wish him success in his assignment in North Queensland.

THANKS

In every appeal for personal assistance that has been sent from the School we have received generous support. Every department of school activity has been influenced by voluntary help from parents and old boys. Our gratitude is offered to all these and to the members of staff, teaching, clerical and maintenance whose endeavours extend far beyond the call of duty. As in the past, Mrs. H. F. Olsen at the library, Mrs. P. J. Doyle at Tennyson and Miss K. Smith at limitless functions have rendered singular service.

LADIES' COMMITTEE

In his Annual Report, the Headmaster said: "Last year I spoke in superlatives of the Terrace Ladies, working enthusiastically, efficiently and harmoniously and of the graciousness that characterized their relations with myself as Headmaster. I re-iterate those praises for the Terrace Ladies of 1971. I am deeply grateful to the Lady President, Mrs. Vincent, the Secretary Mrs. Gallagher, the Treasurer Mrs. Neilan and all ladies of the Committee for a year of splendid endeavours for Terrace.

XAVIER TEACHERS COLLEGE

Terrace Old Boy Br. Dan Bynon was among the first Graduation Class from Xavier College, Indooroopilly.

Established this year for the teacher training of Christian Brothers in Queensland, the College is situated in the grounds of Nudgee Junior College.

The College employs the latest audio-visual techniques in teacher education. As well, students visit Christian Brothers Colleges for practical experience. Terrace was pleased to welcome several students to the Primary School during the year.

Among second year trainees at the college are old boys Bros. Richard Walsh, William Sultmann, Kevin Twomey, David Maher and Timothy Devlin. Early in the year, at the Christian Brothers Novitiate at Helidon, Br. Frank White received the Habit as a Christian Brother.

PREFECTS

"In trying to assess the spirit of a school I find myself concentrating upon the Senior students, who influence for good or evil the tone of the whole school. I think the Terrace representatives in the Senior School would rate highly in comparison with those of any other schools.

I should like to pay a compliment to our Prefect body under Patrick O'Shea, our School Captain, and Patrick Creagh the Vice-Captain. The members of this body displayed loyalty and leadership of a high standard, and I am pleased to record that I feel the improved spirit of the Senior School derives in good measure from their efforts.

In Patrick O'Shea the student body has a gifted leader who has won the respect of the whole school.

I can categorically say that this year's Prefect body is the most effective of my years at Terrace."

St. Vincent de Paul

The Society recorded another successful year and students were not lacking in their generosity towards those less fortunate.

The main source of our funds was the weekly collections throughout the College and these made possible assistance to the Pakistani Relief Fund, gifts to patients during hospital visitations and donations to other charities.

The 1970 Junior class donated their science texts to the New Guinea Missions. Used stamps were collected for the Marburg Seminary, the Catholic Leader was sold each Thursday. Food, clothing, shoe and knife-fork-spoon drives were made which directly aided the Margaret Street Hostel. The Food drives were particularly successful with over 1,200 pounds of food being collected.

As usual, regular visits were made to the Hostel and special visits were made to Xavier Home and the Royal Childrens' Hospital.

Y.C.S.

Terrace was host school for a regional training day late in the first term when 80 students from All Hallows, St. James, Kelvin Grove High, Marist Brothers, Loreto, and Stafford parish gathered to discuss how Y.C.S. principles could be further applied to our daily student life. M. Mulligan was elected President of the Diocesan Y.S.C. Finance Committee which helps support the Regional Office. Freedom from Hunger campaigns, Project Compassion and Aid to Pakistani refugees were projects sponsored by the 1971 Y.C.S.

Interact

The crowning achievement of Interact's year was a function held in the yard at Terrace in aid of the Pakistani refugees. Attractions included shooting galleries and bashing a car wreck at 20c a time. Entirely through their own efforts Interact members raised over $100 for these needy people.

All told, over $1,800 was contributed by boys at the school to appeals on behalf of underprivileged peoples during the year. One of the most pleasing features of this effort was the initiative displayed by individuals and classes, such as Grade Six Blue's Swim-a-thon, which raised over $100.

WHY I LIKE ASTRONOMY

This free-verse essay won First Prize for Michael Hickey in the Captain Cook Bicentenary Competition conducted by the Astronomical Association of Queensland. Michael, shown opposite with his prize, a seven-inch reflecting telescope, was a Grade Ten student at Terrace last year.

When I look up, I "see" what I see:

in one realm:

a bright light in an immense blue arch: how can this orb of confidence be really an incandescent furnace of heat and energy; a broiling trouble of fusing atoms? But with the black velvet setting of space, it resembles a tiny fragment of glowing radium in utter darkness. Power comes from this radium; seething and pulsating with unlimited power.

but in the other sphere:

a stark, crystal clear star: its light might know of great civilisations destroyed before ours began. Yes, and what of these races? Its light might have been travelling for countless aeons—surely it must rest . . . here.

and the moon:

a soft, gentle light gliding on a tranquil black sea—no harsh sounds to defile its silent beauty: for sound is non-existent in that realm. Peace and reassurance beaming from its kindly face: the light: how different from the throbbing solar globe of agitated gases—but of the same origin.

and catching the eye:

a wanderer appears to move aimlessly across the heavens. How wrong is that name. Rather, it is captured; imprisoned in its eternal orbit. Yet it seems content. Some feature is salient: a shimmering ring, a patch of struggling green, or a roving red spot. Some the centre of attention for revolving satellites. But all imprisoned.

and sometimes:

a comet smears the endless void with brilliant resplendency; its trail a glorious raiment for a god. It comes so close but retreats so far; I wonder what it has seen?

I wonder how it feels wandering the solar system?

and outlined by the stars:

a darkness. A nebula of dust and gas retaining unknown mysteries, but what radio waves, to which it is vulnerable, can tell us. A gloomy patch in an illuminated sky, a horse head in shape, or a formless mass; concealing forever its contents.

*and further out again:
a beauty, glory, magnificence, symmetry all so utterly unimaginable: a galaxy of stars: a whirling galaxy fleeting to the very edges of the universe. What myriads have ever died there? All is beauty in silence.*

*and invisible but detected:
a pulsar pulsates great energy: now only a tiny, degraded fragment of once a majestic star: now in agony of immense pressure, very electrons crushed into their nuclei; spinning incredibly swiftly to hide its humiliation. Nought but its powerful bursts of radio waves to remind of former greatness.*

*and a mighty mystery arises:
a hole in space. A huge stellar giant is reduced—gravity overcomes all other force; even light, the intergalactic harbinger, is captured and dragged back. The volume is virtually zero, the gravitation infinite. What can this star feel at this fraction of singularity of space-time? It cannot exist under these agonizing conditions; it makes a desperate bid for relief . . .
and appears in another universe, or another time. I can see the gateway through time and space . . . but cannot enter.*

*and yet another:
a quasar baffles; its speed approaches light itself; how distant then it must be. The edge of this universe . . . and what do they see?
They do not wait to look, but hasten on into the abyss. But how can I see them? Can they be superbright stars? The brilliance of a century of galaxies . . . the very kings of space? Only time can tell.*

*and of the black void:
a black, black void that stretches to infinity . . . yes,
to infinity.*

I see the work of a Being. How unfathomably knowledgeable is this Being. It is light-years beyond my feeble comprehension.

With this array of celestial wonders, how can I do otherwise than like astronomy.

DRAMA GROUP

A dedicated group of young players from Grades 10, 11 and 12 represented the school this year in the Jean Trundell Memorial One-Act play Competition. Over a period of ten weeks they worked hard on afternoons, evenings and weekends to perfect a highly praised performance of the English drama "Boy Dudgeon". From among more than thirty competing groups from Brisbane and country schools, Terrace was awarded third prize and the boys were highly commended by the Adjudicator for the quality of their acting and the conviction they put into their roles. The versatility of the cast could be seen in the fact that the youngest boy, (James Stewart), played a man in his late maturity, while the youngest role was taken by Kevin Brett of Grade Twelve. The enthusiasm created by this production makes it probable that the Terrace Drama Group will rise to even greater heights next year.

DEBATING AND PUBLIC SPEAKING

Keenly aware of students' continuing need of practice in the confident expression of clear and logical ideas, Terrace continues to present debating opportunities for all interested boys in the Middle and Senior School.

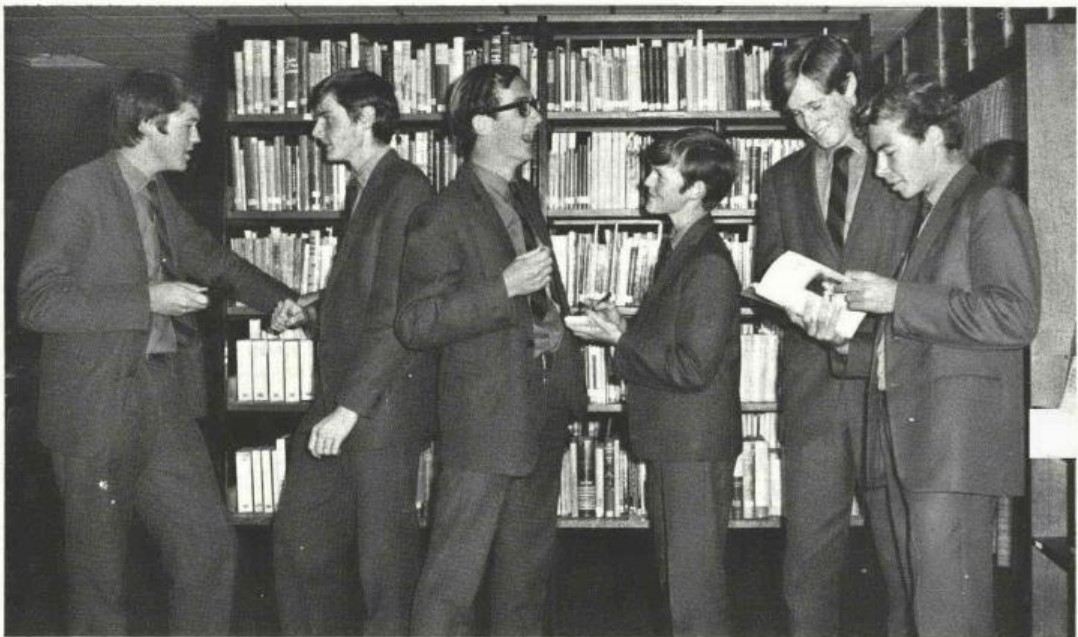

During the year four senior teams and three teams from the Junior classes represented the school in the G.P.S. Debating Competition. The Senior A Grade Team members were Kevin Brett, Ralph Devlin and Patrick O'Shea; while the Junior A Grade Team consisted of James Healy, Greg Smith and Michael Turner.

The Magee Oratory Competition was won in fine and vigorous style by Peter Varghese of the Sub-Senior class. Peter's prepared speech was Peace and War, while his impromptu topic was on the subject of Pollution.

The Dr. John Corbett medal for Debater-of-the-Year, was shared equally by Ralph Devlin and Patrick O'Shea.

OLD BOYS ASSOCIATION

Once again this year the Annual General Meeting was held at the Queensland Rugby Union Clubhouse at Ballymore. Although numbers were down on last years, the venue still proved to be popular. It was again gratifying to see so many old boys at the meeting and the function that followed and we can only hope that this trend will continue. The Meeting was held in February and the following office bearers were elected:

PATRON

The Most Reverend Archbishop O'Donnell—
Archbishop of Brisbane.

VICE PATRONS

The Most Reverend F. Rush D.D.—Bishop of Rockhampton (Terrace 1925-26).

The Most Reverend J. A. Torpie D.D.—Bishop of Cairns (Terrace 1926-27).

OLD BOYS DAY

Mr. Paul Brannelly once again organized old boys day at the Tennyson Playing Fields. The old boys gained the upper hand in all matches except the most important one—the 1st Eleven. The present boys therefore hold for the present The Ron Oxenham Trophy presented for the first time this year.

DINNER FOR BR. CAMPBELL

This was a very special year for Brother Campbell who celebrated his 50th Anniversary in the Christian Brothers. It was also a special year for Terrace Old Boys for Bro. Campbell spent so many of those 50 years at Terrace. A Dinner was held at the Brisbane Club to commemorate the 50th Anniversary. The function was attended by over a hundred old boys and a presentation was made to Bro. Campbell by Mr. Clarke to show the high esteem in which Terrace Old Boys hold their one time teacher/head master.

ANNUAL BALL

Unavoidable circumstances again forced us to change the venue of the ball this time from the Bellevue Hotel to Lennons Hotel. Some 210 guests were welcomed by the President and Mrs. Clarke. A younger age group was again catered for and this seems to be the recipe for success. Many people were responsible for the success of the ball—but once again our special thanks must go to Mr. J. Creagh for his tireless work and promotional effort that helped to make this function highly successful.

MASS & COMMUNION

The Annual Mass and Communion was celebrated at the College on 5th July by the Rev. Father B. Gallagher an old boy of the College. Mrs. Scott once again arranged refreshments after mass and we extend out thanks to her.

ANNUAL DINNER

As tradition has it the old boys Dinner was held late in July. As one formal dinner had been held earlier in the year to celebrate Bro. Campbells Golden Jubilee, it was decided to make this function as informal as possible. Informality was not the only change, the Gresham Hotel was the venue and no guest speaker was invited. The dinner was voted highly successful by the number who attended. Ross Clarke must be thanked for the organizational work put into this function.

In conclusion, the Association wishes to thank the staff of the Terrace, in particular Brothers Lynch and Dillon, for their assistance and continued support.

BUILDING DEVELOPMENTS

It must have seemed an ambitious scheme to many when in April 1875, Bro. Joseph Barrett, founder of Terrace, opened a subscription list with the name of Dr. Quinn, then Bishop of Brisbane for the sum of one hundred pounds, in order to establish a boys college for Brisbane catholic people. The site of the present buildings at Terrace, was a gift of a loyal old boy of the Brothers from Ireland Mr. Dan McSweeney. The first structure, we are told cost $8000 and became a residence in stone facing the Terrace. Bro. Barrett might have been disappointed that only 19 boys enrolled for school on the first day but that small number was to increase to the present roll call of near 1000.

It has been felt for some time that something must be done to provide better conditions for middle and junior school pupils and Stage three of the overall plan for Terrace building development is being proceeded with at present.

In an area facing Victoria St., a new school block, including science rooms, is being built to house grades nine and ten.

Plans for the new building were prepared by architects Frank Cullen and partners and it is expected that the buildings will be in use in early 1972.

Part of the cost will be met by the Commonwealth Government and some assistance towards the payment of interest on the remainder will be given by the State Government. When the plan is completed, we hope that all science facilities at the college will be overhauled and brought up to date. At the same time the transfer of six classes from the old school buildings opening on to Billett Street, will make it possible for grades four to eight to be housed here in greater comfort, with smaller classes and better facilities for audio-visual aids and a temporary junior library etc.

Stage four of the plan will be the construction of a larger and more suitably placed library for the secondary students. This has come about by the assistance that will become available to us in the near future from the Commonwealth Libraries Grant. The Commonwealth Government having inspected our library facilities through their Library Advisory Board in Queensland have made a substantial offer for the construction of an entirely new library. This we hope to avail of very soon.

With the centenary of Terrace coming up in a few years time 1975, every effort will be made to ensure that the generations of students who use these buildings in the next century of Terrace history will have even better surroundings than has been the fortune of their predecessors.

'THE MONS' RETIRES

Monsignor Grantly Sebastian Lake, O.B.E., who retired from the R.A.N. on December 14, after a career and effect on his fellows that can only be described as extraordinary, is a man who has won the praise of more Admirals and the trust of more men than probably any present serving member of the Navy.

He has "belonged" in the R.A.N. since he was Commissioned as a chaplain and joined H.M.A.S. Sydney in 1949. The 20,000 ton ship was an aircraft carrier in those years and was soon operating in the Korean War. Earlier, in 1943, he had become an Army Chaplain and was assigned to the 20th Brigade of the Ninth Division joining it in the Middle East. They lost 371 men in the landing against the Japanese at Finschafen. He was in the second wave.

Born in Sydney in 1914, he was later educated at St. Joseph's College, Gregory Terrace, where among other things he was the welterweight boxing champion.

He says of the men he serves: "There is still a certain mystique about serving at sea. I try to let our men realise that they're top draw. That they've been selected from the bunch—they're not just ordinary blokes. That's why they have to remember who they represent."

Sir Joseph Sheehy R.I.P.

SIR JOSEPH SHEEHY

Students of his old school formed a guard of honour along Gregory Terrace in September for the funeral procession of Sir Joseph Sheehy, one of the State's most respected and best liked Supreme Court judges.

Two years ago, while administrator of the State of Queensland, he paid an official visit to Terrace and addressed the assembled school:

"Some 22 years ago, in 1947, when I was appointed a Justice of the Supreme Court of Queensland, I paid a visit to the College. It was for a definite purpose—to express my gratitude to those men who had trained me and taught me—the Christian Brothers. I freely acknowledged then that to them I owed, apart from my parents, whatever success in life I may have achieved.

I come here again today, in the exalted office of Administrator of the State of Queensland, to repeat and emphasise what I said on that occasion. It is a high honour to have assumed this office. I share the honour with my old school."

WALLABY TOURISTS

At a special assembly in October, the guests were Mr. Joe French and David Dunworth, members of the 1971 Rugby Tour of France. Mr. French was the manager of the team while David was one of its most useful forwards. Both the old boys addressed the school, and mentioned the groundwork in Rugby obtained at Terrace as invaluable.

CADETS

Anzac Day

In 1971 the unit activities were extremely successful and rewarding. This was achieved through the exercise of one of the chief aims of cadet training—that of developing leadership qualities in our youth.

The Under Officers and Senior NCO's displayed a remarkable willingness to accept responsibility and to carry out tasks which in previous years had often been done by the adult officers. Our annual camp (one of the highlights of the cadet year) gave clear evidence of the efficiency and quality of our CUO's and Senior NCO's.

Cadet Under Officer Kevin Barrell brought great distinction to himself, and indeed to the unit as a whole, by initially being adjudged top CUO candidate in the 1970 Christmas promotion courses, and secondly by being awarded the Imperial Cadet Association award as the top CUO in the State. Unfortunately, this award is sent from Britain and arrived too late for formal presentation either at Passing Out Parade or Speech Night.

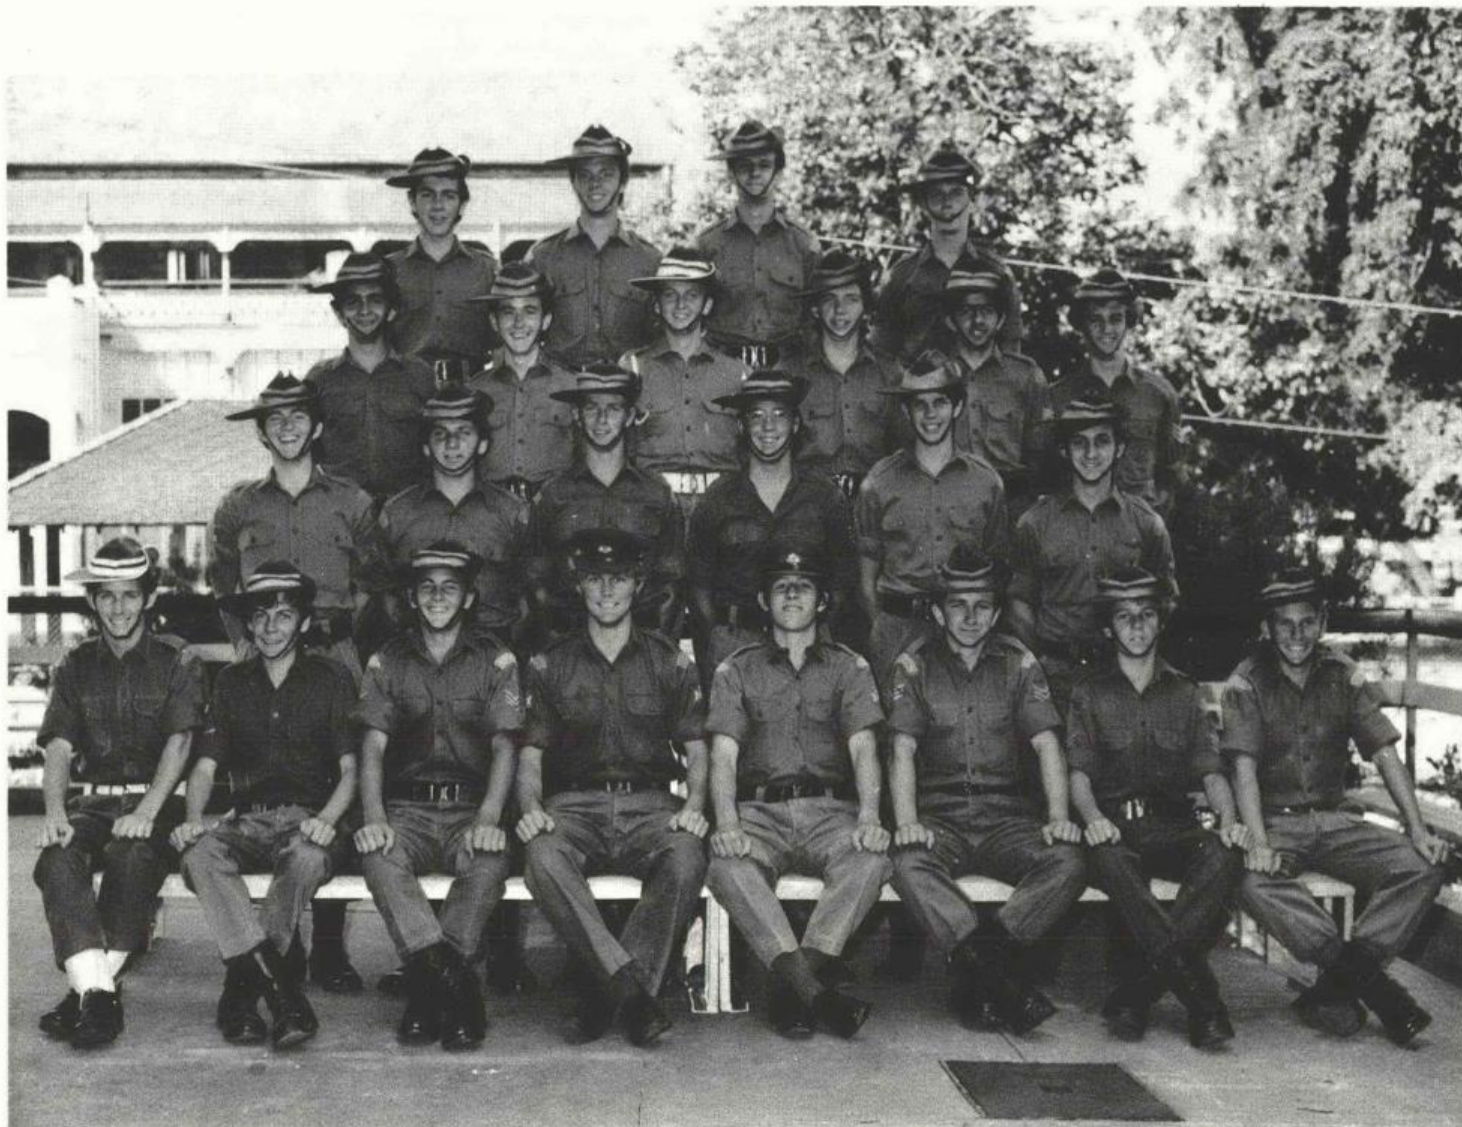

The unit was unfortunate this year in that Captain L. Kricker and Lieutenant P. Gilroy found it necessary to retire from cadets. Their services in the past have been invaluable.

Lieutenants D. Edgerton and P. Arundell are welcome additions to the officer strength.

AIR TRAINING CORPS

No. 11 Flight enjoyed a successful and interesting year in '71, due largely to the enthusiastic organization of the Flight Commander, Flight Lieutenant K. F. Druery, who is now farewelled with regret from the Flight. To him many thanks are due from the A.T.C. for his years of keen service.

New to the training staff this year were Flying Officer K. Drinkall and Pilot Officer P. Spence.

The annual general interest camp, postponed from the May vacation, was held in August. The basic stage cadets camped at R.A.A.F. base Amberley, whilst the proficiency and advanced cadets bivouaced at Lake Manchester.

The year saw groups of cadets on three additional bivouacs—two in the Marburg area and one on Bribie Island. Other activities of interest were the drill competition with the Flights at St. Lawrence's and Brisbane State High School, a C.O.'s parade, the inter-flight shooting competition, a shooting with the Terrace Army cadets, the Passing Out Parade and two gliding weekends at Kingaroy for a few luckier cadets.

Congratulations are due to two cadets who distinguished themselves. W.O. P. Creagh was selected to represent Queensland Squadron A.T.C. at a cadet training course in the Territory of Papua and New Guinea last Christmas, and L. Cdt. M. Turner was awarded a flying scholarship in October.

NEW ZEALAND TOUR

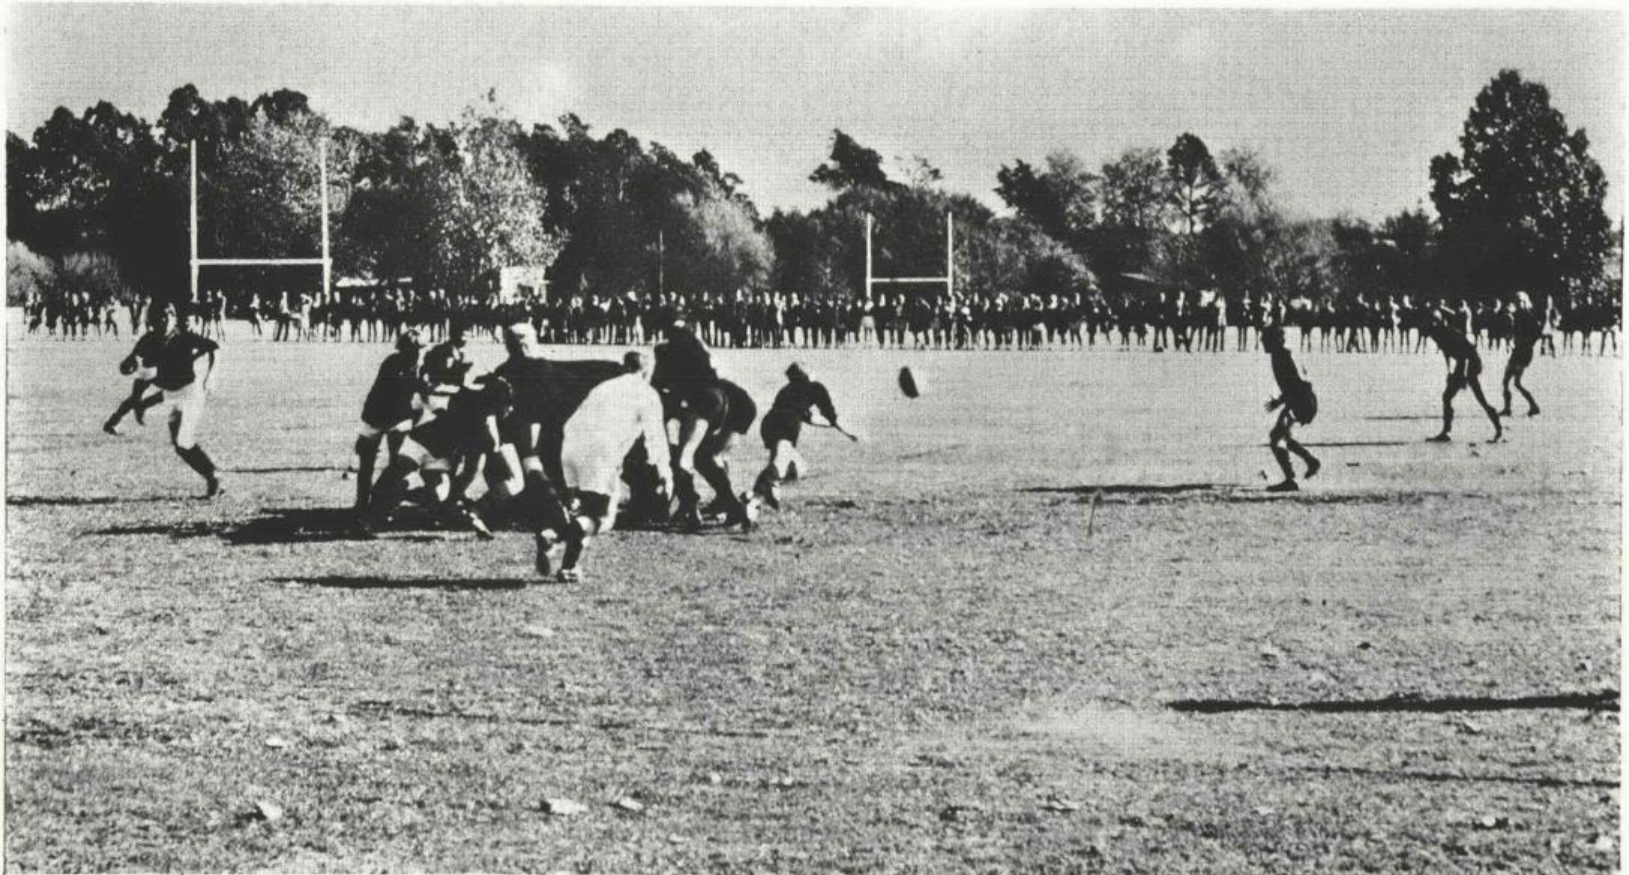

The sporting and educational highlight of the year was the two weeks' tour of New Zealand in May.

Memories of genuine hospitality, magnificent and varied scenery, and dedicated football remain as a lasting legacy of the tour. We are indebted to numerous families for their delicate concern while we were with them. In Auckland and Wellington we were the guests of the Rugby Union. In Auckland we were given intensive coaching by Mr. Pat Walsh, a selector and former All Black, and by Mr. Don Clarke, legendary full-back.

Our benefactors were numerous—Bros. Ryan and Prendergast in Auckland, Mr. J. Sumich and the Headmaster, Mr. H. Harland in Putaruru, Mr. T. Snowdon and the Headmaster Mr. McFarlane in Wellington; Brs Connolly and Boyd in Oamaru; Mr. B. Brittenden our liaison officer; Mr. M. Browning of Air New Zealand; Mr. T. Madgewick of the Station Hotel in Auckland; Dr. Quinn for valued medical service.

In the final analysis it was the magnificent support of $4,000 from parents, Old Boys and students that sent Terrace overseas in 1971.

MR. N. BYRNE

This year marked the last appearance of Mr. Norbert Byrne as coach of our First Fifteen. He completed six years of completely dedicated service to Rugby at the College, during which we saw the resumption after 40 years of taking our teams on tour. Terrace owes a debt of gratitude to Mr. Byrne. We thank him for his services and wish him well in the future.

Peter French (Capt.)

Second Row—lead team intelligently and by the good example of his whole-hearted forward display. Particularly good in No. 2 lineout position.

Pat Creagh (Vice-Capt.)

Five eight—prolific point scorer; handling both sure and speedy.

Anthony Conaghan

Full-back and centre—gave a superb display of catching in the Auckland match but prevented by recurring injury from appearing in many games.

Pat O'Shea

Wing—made up for lack of speed by hard running and determination.

Ross Anderson

Utility Back—a real team man who played with zest in all backline positions except full back. Clever backing up yielded him several good tries.

David Balwin

Full-Back—youngest member of Terrace Firsts for years, possesses a maturity to equal his great potential.

Greg Balwin

Centre—very solid displays early in the season failed to develop because of injury.

Brian Gardiner

Wing, Centre—provided real penetration and tackled well at centre late in the season. Sliced through the defence to score against Nudgee.

Peter Kearney

Wing—played consistently hard and well.

Mark Goodall

Scrum half—going really well until injured at Christchurch. Returned for Nudgee game and played well.

Mark Dallimore

Centre—sound tackler but lapsed in handling and concentration occasionally.

Tony Anderson

Breakaway—hardest tackler in the competition and a tigerish forward.

Mark O'Sullivan

Breakaway—fine all-round forward with a particularly good display versus High School.

Reps. in Queensland Schools XV: P. Creagh, M. Mulligan, T. Anderson.

John Bliss

Lock—a real guts man as well as being that rarity—a thinking forward.

Lindsay Kuhneman

Second Row—developed from last season's scrum half to the second row—a big step successfully carried out by solid forward play.

Peter George

Lock—it was indicative of the strength of the Terrace pack that such a keen and talented player should spend most of the season in the Seconds.

Peter Dixon

Prop.—gave big-hearted displays in every game.

John Walker

Hooker—very good striker and loose forward.

Michael Mulligan

Prop.—sound scrummager. General play improved out of sight.

Leo McCourt

Five-eight, centre—talented youngster. Good hands and feet and courageous tackler.

Bruce Humphrys

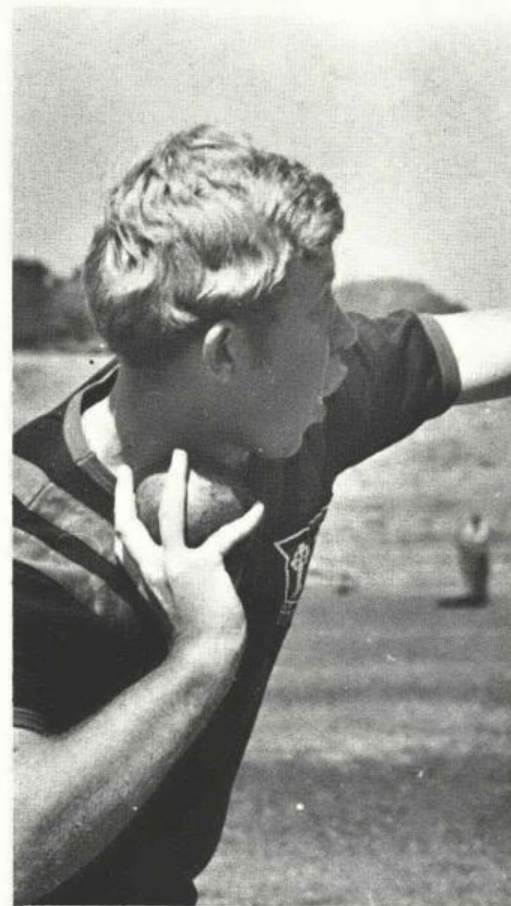

The end of the morning session of field events on Saturday, Oct. 2, found G.T. leading the points scored. This was thanks to a brilliant Broad Jump Under 14 win by Bruce Humphrys, who cleared 18ft. 0 3/4 inches—his personal best and only 7 1/4" short of the G.P.S. record, to a record-breaking Under 17 Short Putt win by J. Hempenstall, (51 feet 11 ins), and to a fine win in the U.17 High Jump by C. Coyne, (6ft. 0ins). These were backed up by R. Long's second in the U.16 High Jump with 5 feet 8 ins. (his personal best) and good places by other competitors.

However, our strength in the track events during the afternoon was not sufficient to hold out despite some sterling efforts.

The grandstand finish of John Wilkinson in the U.16 800 metres that brought him up to 3rd place in his best time (2 min. 2.9 secs) showed what grit and determination can do.

The plucky 3rd in the U.16 400 metres by an unwell G. Jeppesen, P. Sharpe's 3rd in the 1500 metres open despite a leg injury and S. Curran's handy 5th in the Open 3000 metres in which, although U.17, he replaced P. Sharpe also deserve mention. The Under 14 team gave notice of better things to come in the future by gaining most points in that division.

Terrace hopes that the keenness of next year's athletes will enable them to copy Toowoomba Grammar's fine win and they wholeheartedly congratulate that team on its brilliant performance.

G.P.S. CROSS COUNTRY

The inauguration of a G.P.S. Cross-Country Championship found Terrace competing with reasonable success. In the Senior Division P. Sharpe (7th), C. Grehan (11th), P. Rodgers (18th) and S. Curran (27th) gained us 4th place behind a strong C.E.G.S. team with B.S.H.S. and B.G.S. being 2nd and 3rd. In the Junior Division, Terrace once more came 4th behind C.E.G.S., T.G.S. and I.G.S. G. Jeppesen (13th), D. Balwin (15th), L. Kloza (19th), and P. Kent (29th), formed our team. The participation of a total of 62 Senior runners and 58 Junior runners guarantees the survival of this form of G.P.S. competition.

For the record, this was not the first G.P.S. Cross-Country. An effort was made in 1940 to introduce this sport. The race was held in the Term Holidays, and Terrace won.

STEPHEN RACKEMANN

Proved capable Captain; good singles wins (only lost 2—both against state ranked players) inspired the other members of the team.

DAVID O'BRIEN

A strong player at No. 2, capable of producing a big game on occasions.

JOHN MAHER

Became an obstacle to the opposition in spite of his youth, and played some truly brilliant tennis in doubles under pressure.

ROSS ANDERSON

A great asset at No. 4 and in the doubles where he helped to achieve the all important spirit this team developed.

OPEN TENNIS

From the beginning of the season a good team spirit developed, and the players settled down to solid practice sessions. Aided in this respect by professional coach Eric Maidens the standard of tennis rose considerably. Armed with a better tennis technique, and a sense of determination the first four produced some of the best results Terrace has seen in some years.

The opening matches of the first term provided the confidence this team needed to rise to the great heights they did. Finally "the match" of the season came, against the G.P.S. stronghold of tennis, Grammar. Terrace at this third last match for the season was undefeated and out to win. Grammar, having not lost a rubber for the season as yet, were confident that Terrace didn't even matter. At the end of the day Grammar was victorious but only by one rubber. However, Terrace was struck with misfortune in the two concluding matches—D. O'Brien (No. 2 player) was unavailable for the State High match and S. Rackemann (Capt.) was ill for the B.B.C. match. In each case, Gary Gough must be complimented on his tenacious play under pressure.

Special thanks to Mr. Baker whose enthusiasm and consistent attendance at matches was appreciated by all. We must pay tribute to him for instituting school tournaments for the younger boys, the favourable results of which have already been noted in the lower age groups.

Front: P. O'Brien, P. Kearney, P. Creagh, A. Conaghan, J. Walker, K. Heilbronn.

Captain was Tony Conaghan, a dashing right hand batsman whose efforts to get runs on the board often resulted in an early dismissal—often the result of 'bad luck' rather than poor play. The Captain was also a first class wicket-keeper.

No one worked harder than the two opening fast bowlers Pat Creagh (Vice Capt.) and John Hempenstall, who bowled with lion-courage on those hot steamy days both often bowling 15-18 overs in the one session. They were an inspiration to the whole side. John Hempenstall was also very good with the bat.

The season commenced with Mark Goodall and Brian Gardiner as openers with Peter Kearney promoted to that position for the last three matches. Mark's innings at Grammar and Churchie, Brian's at Churchie and Peter's in the Old Boys' Match and at T.G.S. will long be remembered.

Pat O'Shea came in 6th wicket down and with his 20's, 24's etc., helped our scores to reach respectable totals. Pat was also a very handy medium pace change bowler.

John Walker, Chris Ward, Kerry Hillronn, Pat O'Brien and Phil Toye also made some valuable contributions to the team. Kerry Heilbronn's diving catch right out on the boundary at B.B.C. which sewed up the game for us was surely one of the highlights of the season.

Many thanks to Len Goodyear for his invaluable services as Scorer for the side.

G.P.S. SWIMMING TEAM

Terrace, fighting desperately to build up a strong points lead early in the carnival, could not hold off a fierce attack by the Grammar relay teams. Leading by six points before relays, Terrace finished second by the narrow margin of thirteen points.

Prolific point scorer J. Van Opdenbosch (57 points or 25% of the total score), swimming up an age in the Open division, broke two records and scored four firsts and a second. John's improvement since last season, although apparently not significant in terms of the number of seconds taken off his time, has been sure and steady. He has now reached the stage where much effort is required to take 1/10 second off his time. At a brief bar-b-que held at the home of this year's hosts Mr. & Mrs. F. Vincent, John was awarded the Lance Hadley Memorial Trophy for the most improved G.P.S. swimmer.

Other swimmers who were singled out as the most improved were Mark Fitz-Walter (U.16), John Wilkinson (U.15), Mark Hickey (U.14), Mark Tonelli (U.14) and Michael Crouch (U.12).

Notable performances by Mark Tonelli earned Terrace another forty-seven points. Mark scored four firsts and a second. He also captured two records and narrowly missed a third.

Most outstanding performances of the day were produced by one of the team's diminutives; Michael Crouch. Michael under twelve and swimming up an age, sliced whole seconds off his time ending with three personal best times in four events.

Peter Smith swimming for the first time at G.P.S. produced an unexpected third in the 50m. Freestyle U.13. And so the trophy moves to the other end of the Terrace (in the words of Sportsmaster, Br. Dillon). Next year we will be back more prepared and as enthusiastic to crawl back on top.

The swimming team wishes to thank the parents of swimmers for their support during the season, to the barrackers on G.P.S. day, to the various coached of individual team members especially Mr. Gordon Petersen our Official Coach, and to any others connected with their efforts.

In all Terrace recorded four new G.P.S. records, all of which are school records. Eleven School records were also broken during the course of the afternoon.

C.C.C. SWIMMING

Terrace were once again runners-up to St. Laurences in the C.C.C. Carnival. We scored 235 points to their 315, but this final winning margin was built up by them only in the last four races as their relays forged ahead. Up until then our swimmers did themselves proudly.

We managed 13 firsts and 16 seconds on the day—quite a good performance. Special mention must go to the U.12 division who gained 7 of the 13 firsts with fine swimming by all the members, in particular Michael Crouch, who earned 43 points for the team with his performances. Brian Hickey also has his name in the C.C.C. Record Book for his smart time of 44.8 secs. in the U.11 25M. Breaststroke. Congratulations to all swimmers for their efforts.

ROWING

Christening the 'T. P. Hendersen'.

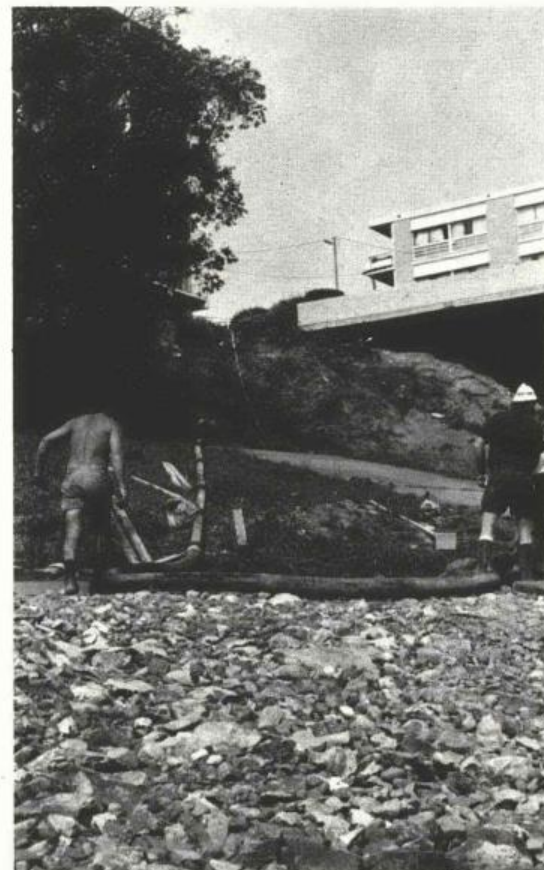

Captain of Boats: Richard Sivyer
Vice-Captain and Stroke of Eight: Peter French.

Rowers, coaches and auxiliary members combined to make the 1971 season as profitable and enjoyable as any in the Club's history.

In the Head of the River we were to suffer the bitterest of all rowing experiences—unable to finish a race. After a bright start and holding a good position at the 500 metre mark, our No. 5's blade nicked a buoy and came out of the swivel, swerving the boat off course. As "5" leant out to try to adjust his blade he over balanced and fell out of the boat. In the meantime Churchie had maintained its lead to the finishing line.

Other results were more heartening. A first for the 10th Four, and five second places (1st, 2nd, 6th, 9th and 11th fours) were the most convincing results for some years. The effort from the very lightweight First and Second fours is what future spirit is built on.

Our gratitude to Mr. Peter Cole, who gained complete co-operation from the Eight, and the other equally enthusiastic coaches, was expressed at the party afterwards—Messrs. Alan Patching, Terry Dawson, Chris Raven, Vince Cavalluci, Martin Doyle, Norman Hoare, David and Alex Splatt, Rod and Peter Hemming, Peter Gregg and Denis Croft.

The New Ramp

A four, the "T.P. Andersen", was received early in the year, with the full remittance of $1200 in hand before its arrival. A new Eight, the "Sir Joseph Sheehy", was delivered in October with its $2200 debt eliminated within four weeks by the usual voluntary donations from parents of rowers. Their very practical gratitude for what rowing does for their sons, and their constant maintenance of boats, are appreciated.

Our previous concrete ramp of 40ft. x 50ft. was almost doubled through the generosity of an Auxiliary member who supplied the ready-mix cement and final labour force. At previous work parties a group of fathers learnt the joys of ramp construction.

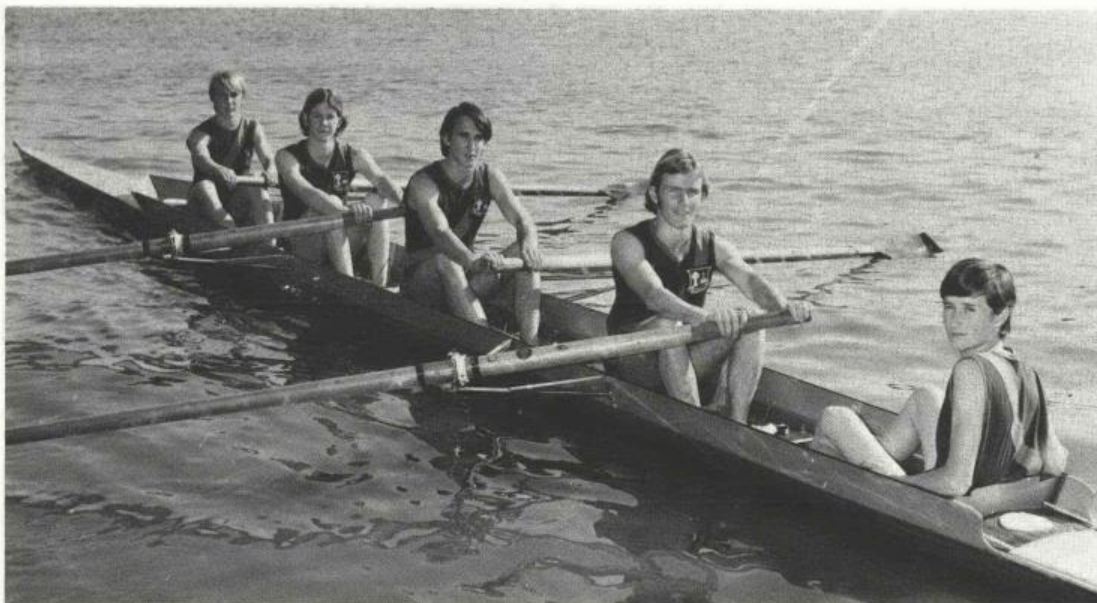

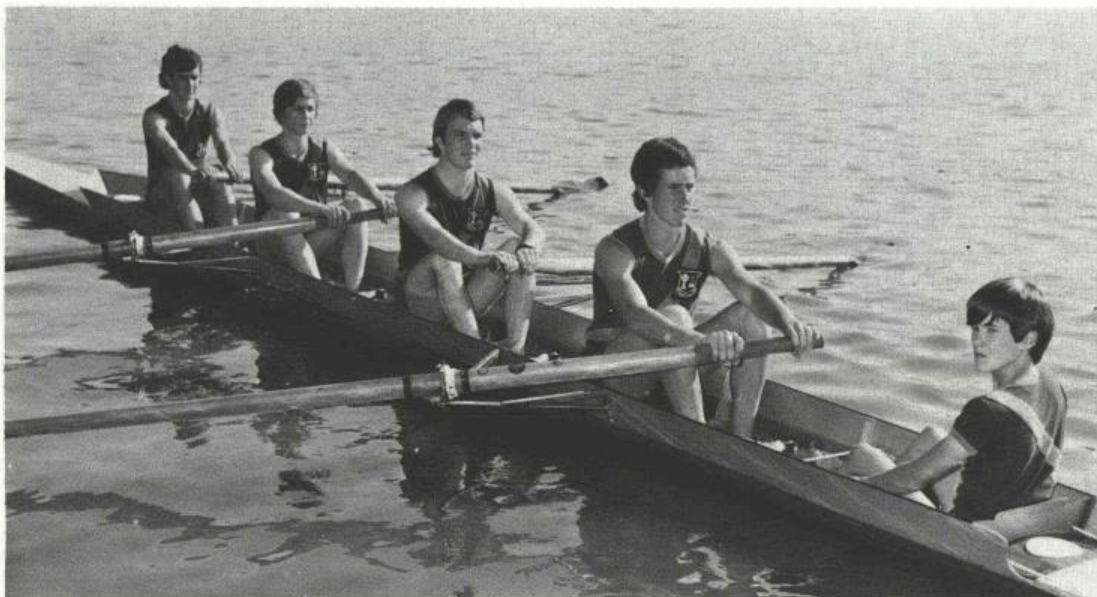

Financially and socially the Terrace Regatta in March and the House Regatta in October were very successful. Our thanks to Mesdames Sivyver, French, McCrossin and all the mothers who helped at these and other functions. To our long suffering and tolerant group of speed-boat drivers we are grateful—G. Weale, B. Galvin, R. Jaycock, P. Beck.

GRADE FOUR

NOTES TO PARENTS

CLASSES—Classes range from Grade IV to Senior University.

The Curriculum includes all subjects required by the Revised Secondary Syllabus and all subjects normally required for Matriculation.

TRANSPORT—The College is centrally situated, being within one mile of the G.P.O. The Alexandra Road, Clayfield 'bus from the City Hall passes the College (Stop 7). Special buses leave the City Hall every morning and return to the City from the College each afternoon.

ATTENDANCE AND PUNCTUALITY—Regular attendance and punctuality are of the highest importance and in case of absence, the Brother in charge of the class should be notified by telephone or in writing. Unjustified absence is viewed as a serious breach of school discipline. Except in extraordinary circumstances, permission should not be sought for extra holiday periods, or for dental appointments within school hours.

CLASS HOURS—Classes commence at 8.35 a.m., and terminate at 3.30 p.m. During the day there are two recesses: one of 15 minutes at 10.45 a.m., and the other of three-quarters of an hour at 12.30 p.m. Boys are not allowed outside the ground at lunch hours. A Tuck Shop on the premises caters for all needs.

PROGRESS REPORTS—A report showing the percentage gained in each subject is posted to parents at the end of each term or semester except when Final Term results are published in the newspapers for the Senior Examination.

THE SPIRIT OF STUDY—At St. Joseph's a boy is expected to apply himself to study without undue pressure from teachers. It is an important part of a boy's training that as soon as possible he should be brought to realise that his future is in his own hands; the best opportunities may be wasted through lack of application and perseverance. The co-operation of parents therefore is cordially invited by the Headmaster. Lack of interest in study noticed in the home is best remedied by consultation with the College. Interviews with Headmaster or Staff may readily be arranged by appointment.

SPEECHCRAFT AND SINGING—Speechcraft is taught weekly in all classes up to Sub-Junior inclusive. Choral singing is taught in Primary Classes, and individuals are coached in both singing and elocution for the College and Combined Festivals. A Literary and Debating Society functions regularly in Secondary Classes.

COLLEGE UNIFORM—This consists of a dark grey suit, dark grey shirt, white shirt for night functions, dark grey pullover, College tie, grey hose (marked with School colours for wear with short trousers), grey hat and hat band, black leather shoes. The use of the full uniform is compulsory for daily attendance in class and for public functions in connection with the College. During the First and Third Terms the summer uniform is worn. It is recommended, too, that boys in competition teams procure a College blazer for sportswear.

SWIMMING—In the summer months the baths are available to all for swimming. Each class up to Junior has a regular swimming period in the College baths, and each Primary class a weekly coaching period in the Centenary pool. A Master is always in attendance while the boys are swimming.

SPORT—Every pupil in the College, unless he is medically unfit, is expected to take his part in the sporting life of the College, and to be prepared to do his duty to the full when given the honour of representation in any sporting activity. The decision to curtail sporting activities must rest with the School authorities. Competitions are fostered with the School to cater for those boys not selected to compete in inter-College fixtures. The dress peculiar to each sport to be worn. Boys may learn tennis from a professional coach who takes classes after school hours.

CADETS AND AIR TRAINING CORPS—Every boy in the Secondary School over fourteen years of age is expected to join one of the Cadet Units, unless there is an acceptable reason for not doing so. Parades are held one afternoon each week after school hours.
