An easier way to access digital resources

With LearningField, teachers can individualise your child's learning by choosing chapters from a broad range of digital textbooks and interactive products from Australia's leading educational publishers, all through a single and secure platform.

About your subscription

In 2018, Year 11 & 12 students at Woodleigh School will be using LearningField to access digital textbooks for Mathematical Methods, Mathematics Further, Mathematics General, Mathematics Specialist, Accounting and Chemistry. LearningField is available as an annual subscription which allows unlimited access to these digital textbooks for the 2018 school year.

Unlimited access to over 15,000 chapters

Single log in

LearningField delivers textbooks directly to students' devices via a single log in, eliminating the need to carry heavy books, use paper codes or sign in to several publishers' websites.

Choice

LearningField provides multiple textbooks per subject from the participating publishers, including choice across year levels.

Personalised learning

Teachers can tailor learning for individuals or groups, with the freedom to choose chapters from different textbooks or even different year levels to suit your child's needs. Students can add texts to their own library to guide their learning and for extra revision.

Anywhere, anytime access

Your child can access LearningField anywhere, anytime on a range of devices – iPads, Macs, PCs, Chromebooks or Android tablets. This means they have access to their textbooks wherever they are, be that at school or at home, online or offline.

Study and revision features

Students can make study notes and highlight content inside the chapters.

Collaboration and engagement

Students can share ideas through group notes.

Up-to-date content

LearningField has the latest content, with chapters mapped to the Australian or relevant State Curriculums.
