Tasmania – World Cup Luncheon

Imagine calling a game of soccer and at the end of the match having no memory of what just happened in front of you. That's the reality for former Socceroo Captain Paul Wade who was the guest speaker at the Carbine Club Tasmania World Cup Luncheon on 14 October. (Pic – happy guests at the lunch)

'Wadey' who has worked as a commentator for Sky, SBS & Chanel 7 suffers from epilepsy, and has to work hard to commit information to memory following brain surgery he had in order to stop seizures.

During his inspirational presentation to a packed room at the Royal Yacht Club of Tasmania, Paul recounted highlights from his professional career, prompted by a large number of shirts he had worn or swapped with opposition players. As he produced each of the international playing strips, he told a story relating to the game, player or team involved.

The most treasured top was the Argentinean national shirt worn by the legendary Diego Maradona, who was Paul's opponent on two occasions.

Guests were able to have Paul sign free Soccer Balls which were provided by Carbine Club Tasmania member Mike Davey who also did a great job as the MC.

Also in Tas: at the recent Tasmanian Thoroughbred Industry Awards night apprentice jockey Chelsea Baker (pictured) was named as the Dux of the Apprenticeship Program. The award is co-sponsored by CCTAS and Chelsea wrote after the event to formally thank the Club saying "Thank you so much for your contribution and support towards the award and industry, it means a great deal to myself and I cannot express enough thanks".

Queensland – Cricket Lunch

The Carbine Club of Queensland held the annual Cricket Lunch on 13 October with 144 members and guests attending. MC for the day legendary sporting journalist Robert “Crash” Craddock was joined by special guests Darren Lehmann and Ian Healy together with some cricketing greats in Martin Kent, Geoff Dymock, Ray Phillips, John Maguire, Craig McDermott and former test umpire Bruce Oxenford.

During the lunch the Bill Brown Medal award was made by “Crash” and Bill Brown’s granddaughter Tina Brown; the recipient Charli Knott was unable to be present, so her parents Brendan and Jo accepted on her behalf.

BILL BROWN AWARD CHARLI KNOTT

Queensland Fire and WBBL Brisbane Heat allrounder Charli Knott, continues to build an enviable reputation as one of the leading young players in Australia.

Originally from Mackay, the 19-year-old University of Queensland allrounder has been a part of Fire and Heat squads since she was 15.

As well as playing in the senior teams, she is an accomplished captain, leading the Queensland Under-19 women's team to the national title in March this year.

She was also named Player of the Championships.
