MOVING GEAR?

You need an expert relocation partner.

Our team has decades of experience moving production lines quickly and safely.

Foodmach specialises in equipment and factory relocation. We're able to oversee the whole production line relocation process, from dismantling, packing and transport to re-installation and commissioning.

Let us help you with:

- Relocation, removal, installation, modification and commissioning of all types of factory equipment and machinery
- Relocations within your existing factory, or to new locations around the region
- Establishment of production lines in new greenfield factories
- End-to-end project management.

In-house expertise

Our turnkey services are provided by fully-trained and qualified Foodmach personnel. We tailor our offer to suit your exact requirements from our full range of capabilities:

- Design, engineering, manufacturing, software and electrical requirements for all machinery and equipment installations, modifications and additions
- Line integration, line control architecture, line management execution systems
- Line efficiency auditing and optimisation
- Liaison and compliance with all regulatory and government regulations and requirements
- Liaison with local and international OEM machinery and equipment suppliers
- Consulting for plant shut-downs, projects, capital works, and upgrades to plant facilities, machinery, and equipment
- Consultation support services to other external contracting companies
- Relocation and/or removal services for machinery and equipment from individual machines through to complete manufacturing facilities, including provision of heavy moving equipment
- All required trades: electricians, fitters, welders, sheet metal, heavy equipment operators
- Risk assessments
- OHS and environmental compliance
- Documentation of compliance to current Australian and International Standards
- Operation and safety awareness training, maintenance service and support

We have an established network of heavy moving equipment suppliers throughout Australasia and South East Asia.
