About Pureworx

Pure, Powerful, Planet-Friendly Cleaning.

Your Choice Today Shapes A Greener World Tomorrow

At PureWorx, we are dedicated to revolutionizing cleaning across all industries by offering sustainable, chemical-free solutions.

Our mission is simple: to eliminate the need for harsh chemicals without compromising on effectiveness, ensuring a safer environment for you, your family, and the planet.

Our Origin Story

It all began with a vision from our founder, Robert Erskine. Witnessing the widespread use of chemical-laden cleaning products and their impact on health and the environment, Robert was driven to find a better way. He sought to create a cleaning solution that was not only effective across various surfaces but also safe for people and the planet. This vision was the seed that grew into PureWorx.

The PureWorx Promise

Robert's enthusiasm for a cleaner, safer world quickly spread, attracting like-minded individuals who shared his passion. Together, they transformed PureWorx from a visionary idea into a reality, ensuring that our products stand at the forefront of eco-friendly cleaning innovation. Our journey began with a commitment to sustainability and excellence, and these principles continue to guide us as we expand our reach across industries and communities.

About Pureworx

Pure, Powerful, Planet-Friendly Cleaning.

• Research and Innovation

Our breakthrough came through collaboration with leading scientists and researchers, dedicated to developing a formula that redefines clean. By harnessing the power of advanced biotechnology and natural ingredients, we achieved a breakthrough: a range of cleaning products that are potent against dirt and grime yet gentle on the earth. Months of rigorous testing and refinement led us to a suite of products we are proud to offer — effective, eco-conscious cleaning solutions that set new standards in the industry.

• Looking Forward

Today, PureWorx stands as a testament to what is possible when innovation meets dedication to the environment. Our products, proven in major chains like McDonald's and trusted by countless businesses and homes across Australia, embody our commitment to a cleaner, healthier world.

With PureWorx, you're not just choosing an environmentally friendly cleaning option — you're joining a movement towards a more sustainable future.
