STUDY WITH OUR CREATIVE SCHOOLS

Introducing RedHill's Technology and Design Division, a combination of five digital media and creative quality institutions.

ait.edu.au

Academy of Information Technology (AIT)

Encourage your students to be a part of the thousands of graduates to find their career in technology and design with AIT. They can jump into a holiday workshop or plan to study an accredited Bachelor or Diploma course in Interactive Media (focus on 2D Animation, 3D Design, Film & Video or Game Design), Digital Design or IT (Mobile Apps Development or Games Programming).

iscd.edu.au

International School of Colour & Design (iscd)

iscd is more than just a design school. Choose from our industry diplomas or our accredited Diploma of Interior Design and Decoration. Study interior design with a school that will inspire and educate you to fulfill your creative potential. Work with leading industry associations and companies who offer added benefits and opportunities to our student community to kick-start your design career.

coderacademy.edu.au

Coder Academy (CA)

Introducing the accelerated pathway into tech with Australia's only accredited Coding Bootcamp - GenTech. The GenTech Bootcamp is for 17-24 year olds and is perfect for those who would like to go straight into a coding career or get a leg up before starting university. This intensive, 12-month long coding bootcamp is designed to help students build a strong foundation in 21st Century skills. With a 4 week tech cadetship included in the curriculum, GenTech will prepare students to succeed in a STEM degree at university, and provide access to rewarding career opportunities in web development.

theleftbank.edu.au

The Left Bank (TLB)

Reach and influence customers in the digital world with the Diploma of Business (specialising in Digital Marketing). Study a nationally recognised and accredited qualification that has been written and developed by practicing leaders to ensure that you, tomorrow's digital marketing expert, learn from the best and connect with the industry. Study online, at your own pace and from anywhere with other passionate digital marketers.

FORGE FACULTY

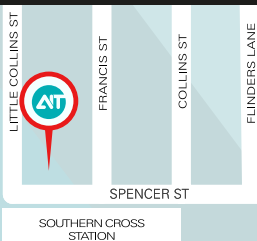

forgefaculty.com.au
