

A photograph of a man and a woman in a classroom setting. The man, with grey hair and wearing a blue and white plaid shirt, is leaning over the woman and pointing at a computer screen. The woman has long brown hair and is looking intently at the screen. In the background, other students are visible at their desks, some using computers. The overall scene suggests a learning or training environment.

Study Modes

Blended

Blended means the course is delivered by a combination of face-to-face and online delivery.

Apprenticeship

Before you begin study, you must be employed as an Apprentice in the industry of your choice. You will get paid while you learn, on campus and on the job. Most Apprenticeships take around 3 to 4 years to complete.

Traineeship

Before you begin study, you must be employed as a Trainee in the industry of your choice. You will get paid while you learn, on campus and on the job. Most Traineeships take around 12 months to complete.

Pre-Apprenticeship

You are not required to be employed in the industry. It's a great first step to learn the basics and make sure it's the right fit for you before you begin an Apprenticeship.

School-Based Apprenticeship

Ideal for people who are still at school. This means you'll learn on the job one day per week and study at school the rest of the time.

For all the details on how to arrange employment visit www.australianapprenticeships.gov.au or www.education.vic.gov.au/training/learners/apprentices for the step by step guide or call 1300 GOTAFE (468 233).

You may be required to undertake an interview and if your course involves industry placement, you may also need a current Police Check, Working with Children Check and Level 2 First Aid.

Certificates I, II, III, IV

Certificate courses commence at Certificate I and go through to Certificate IV. With each level you will gain practical skills to give you a grounding in your chosen field.
